Fair Officials Ready For Start Of Four Big Days

Wild West Riders To Thrill
With Rodeo And "Bulldogging" Exploits

Lawrence county's major late summer attraction—the 18th annual New Castle Fair—starts
Tuesday noon and runs through Wednesday, Thursday and Friday night.

Bigger and Better.
It's only a few hours away and it will be better and bigger than ever. Today, committees in charge of numerous exhibitions and displays are working feverishly on last minute details. The Harlansburg section is filled with the typical "county fair" atmosphere.

The midway is completely filled with the usual run of concessions.
For the first time in six or seven years every bit of space has been sold for every imaginable concession.
Some of the attractions this year include: poultry show, draft horse display, display of short horns, jersey, hereford, pollangus, holstein and guernsey cattle, sheep and hog display, flower show and a number of

PA NEW OBSERVES

It won't be long now until the "switch" of the corn cutter will be heard. It is doubtful if Lawrence county ever had a better corn crop than will be harvested this year, although there may have been larger ones. The summer has been warm, with plenty of rain, and that's just the kind of a summer the corn fields like.

The slow motorist is now coming in for a scoring at the hands of the motor police commissioner. He thinks the man who drives under thirty miles on the road is as much of a menace as the man who drives sixty. Everybody wants to pass the slow driver and this increases the accident list. The slow driver in a line of traffic usually provokes a lot of profanity, too, if there happens to be any ungodly drivers in the line.

The big swimming pool under the Nashua bridge has been on double turn during the past week or ten days. The only trouble is the water is red, like brickdust, a greater part of the time. Some swimmers don't care how red the water is if it's wet.

The Smithsonian institute solemnly announces that planting potatoes in the dark of the moon is no insurance of a good crop. A lot of high-brows have made assertions of that kind before, but they don't seem to carry much weight with the farmer who plants his potatoes in the dark of the moon and gets a good crop.

Raising muskmelons seems to be one of the lost arts in Lawrence county. Time was when plenty of the yellow boys were produced here, but that was before they began shipping in the cantaloupes. The home raised muskmelons, ripened on the vine, was as far ahead of the cantaloupes, ripened enroute, as a pippin is ahead of a wild crabapple.

The statistics sharks claim that in the United States, more people are killed in their homes than by automobiles. This brings up the ques-

Police Nab Killers Of State Policeman; Confess To Holdups

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23.—Two purported gunmen, one of whom is believed to have fired the bullets that killed Corporal John J. Broski of the state motor patrol in a hold-up near Wilkes-Barre, a week ago were arrested here today.

The suspects, Horace Brower, 27, and Victor Andreoli, 23, both of the Manayunk section of Philadelphia—were taken into custody by a large force of police, composed of state troopers, detectives of Lackawanna county and Philadelphia police.

Confesses Part
Andreoli, the first arrested, allegedly confessed taking part in a series of holdups in northeastern Pennsylvania and named Brower as the killer, police said. The latter not only denied the slaying but claimed he was not implicated in the crime.

The arrests were made on a "tip"
police said.
Major William A. Clark, commanding officer at the Wyoming barracks of the Pennsylvania Motor Police, said the men taken into custody were Horace Browers, 28 and Victory Ambrosio 25, both of Philadelphia.

Clark said both youths, involved in a series of eastern stickups and automobile thefts, were arrested in Eight Women And Girls Now Desire The Better Life

Say They Have Been Good Since Being Taken To Allegheny Workhouse

After spending a little over two months in the Allegheny county workhouse, eight New Castle women and girls, who were sent up for operating bawdy houses, have concluded that a moral life is more to be desired than their old manner of living. In petitions for parole presented to Judge James A. Chambers at Lawrence county court this morning, they set forth their desires to lead better lives. They say that if they are given the opportunity they will demonstrate to the court and the community that they are sincere in their aspirations, and that if the court will grant them paroles their conduct will be such as to win the respect and confidence of their friends and neighbors.

The eight were sentenced on June

Chinese Start Offensive Push

Chinese Troops Open Attack On Jap Forces Along
40-Mile Front

(International News Service)

PEIPING, Aug. 23.—Fighting thru the muck of rain-soaked lowlands, 30,000 Chinese troops today opened an attack on 15,000 Japanese along a 40-mile front on both sides of the Peiping-Hankow railroad at Liang-hsiang, only 30 miles southwest of Peiping.

On the Nankow and Kalgan fronts, according to Japanese military dispatches, Chinese troops are in full retreat.

After they were twice thrust back in a frontal assault and a flankish movement at Lianghsiang, the Chinese forces widened their front and opened the onslaught under a heavy rainstorm, which made it difficult for them to move their heavy equipment.

Following the reported capture of Kalgan, Chinese positions in the Nankow pass through the great wall are now endangered from the rear, and a "squeeze" movement is now in progress from north and south.

Rains Chase Heat Wave In Pennsylvania

(International News Service)

Pennsylvanians donned coats and neckties and rolled down their sleeves today as week-end rains brought an end to the sultry, mercury-rocketing temperatures.

For a week the state had sweltered under temperatures well up in the 90's, with the humidity at a high degree making the work of the blistering sun more oppressive.

Storms swept the state in some sections Saturday night bringing a measure of relief while intermittent showers and rain and thunderstorms dropped the mercury from 20 to 25 degrees in a number of sections Sunday.

May Make Appeal To Voters Before Special Session

President Roosevelt To Decide Whether To Take His Case To Voters

PARTY SCHISM IS DEEP ONE

By GEORGE DURNO

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—President Roosevelt will decide in the next 30 days whether or not he will take the New Deal's case to the country during the congressional recess in a limited number of carefully spotted speeches.

His political advisers agreed today it would be a vital decision. If he takes to the road again he will be appealing to the 27,000,000 voters who re-elected him last November in direct opposition to the alliance of Democratic senators and congressmen that blocked the bulk of his program in the session just ended.

Would Recall Congress.

Informed sources believed that should Mr. Roosevelt make a modified speaking swing in October he would call congress back in special session in November and demand action on crop control, hours and wages and government reorganization.

At the moment, the president has not finally made up his mind, it was understood. The decision probably will be made in Hyde Park where he plans to retire the end of this week for a stay of some duration.
Mr. Roosevelt already has one speaking engagement arranged that unquestionably will find him tearing into his political opposition, both within and without his own party.
On Sept. 17, which is Constitution Day, he will deliver an address from Washington over a national radio hook-up. The Good Neighbor league which functioned in his re-election campaign last year, is organizing dinners throughout the country for the sole purpose of listening to this speech.

Determined fighter that he is,
many observers believed President Roosevelt will elect to make it a

Council Cannot Legislate Hours; Cobau's Opinion

Thinks Ordinance Regulating Groceries Would Be Unconstitutional

BARBER SHOP STATUS
NOT QUITE CLEAR

In an opinion presented by Solicitor William Cobau to council today the solicitor informed the officials that in his opinion council would have no authority to designate the opening and closing hours of retail food establishments and probably no authority to designate business hours for barber shops. He said that in his opinion such an ordinance would conflict with constitutional rights.

His opinion came as the result of petitions presented by the barbers and many proprietors and employes of retail food establishment in which they asked that certain hours be designated for the conduct of business.

Written Opinion

In regard to the request of the barbers Cobau wrote:
"The right and liberty of persons to conduct and engage in lawful business at such times and places as they wish without being subject to legislative prohibitions is, of course, guaranteed by the fourteenth amendment to the United States constitution and by Article
One of the Constitution of Pennsylvania."

Final Defense Of Santander Being Staged

REBEL FORCES ARE ADVANCING

(International News Service)

MADRID, Aug. 23.—Their vaunted concrete wall of defenses crumbling before the swift advance of three Rebel armies, all Santan-der's men, from 15 to over 60, were rushed out to the hills overlooking the Bay of Biscay today in a last desperate move to stem the Insurgents.

Loyalist forces made a vigorous but short-lived stand before Selaya and Villacarrion, but suddenly their lines wavered, the troops fled in disorder, and the central rebel column swept onward for five miles, capturing the two villages in their stride.

Villacarrion, an important mining town on the main Burgos-Santander highway, with nearly 3000 population, is the largest center so far taken in the rebel push towards Santander. More than 100 towns and hamlets have fallen before the swath of Generalissimo Francisco Franco and nearly 15,000 loyalists have been killed or taken prisoner, according to insurgent estimates.

Rebels Advance
Pressing forward with equal speed, the main army, composed of three columns advancing along the highway north of Reinosa, came within artillery range of Torrelavega, only 16 miles from Santander.

COLUMBIANA, Pa., Aug. 23.—
Partially wrecking the new struc-

tore through the home of Harvey Bongart, local silk mill worker. Bongart and his wife, asleep at the time, escaped.

Authorities who began an imme-was knocked from his bed, reported he had received a number of threat-ed at the Blue Bird Silk Mill, where a strike has been in progress, but

Two Hundred Killed When Chinese Shells Hit Shanghai Store

sudden death to 200 as they quietly artillery shells today wrecked an 18-story department store in the heart

Three Americans—one of whom is near death—were among the hun-single catastrophe of the ten-day war.

Little hope was held for the re-severe wounds in his chest and one in his left arm. His colleague on the Times, Hallett Abend, was slightly wounded.

The third American casualty in the holocaust was Miss Blanche Tenney, a Shanghai-born United States citizen, who suffered minor injuries.

Other Chinese shells, arching at a

Bruno Taken To Prison Today

Recaptured Political Leader
To Start Life Sentence
In Philadelphia

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Joseph J.
Bruno, former political boss in the Schuylkill county anthracite region of Pennsylvania, was whisked away to Philadelphia today to start serving three life sentences in eastern penitentiary.

Bruno, convicted in connection with the slaying of five persons in a "political massacre" at Kelayres, Pa., in 1934, was captured here yesterday, eight months after escaping from a guard at Pottsville, Pa.

Legal proceedings attendant upon Bruno's departure were extremely brief. First, soon after nine o'clock this morning, he was taken to the police lineup. There, while glaring lights beat down, he readily admitted he was a fugitive from Pennsylvania.

Immediately thereafter, he was taken into general sessions court where he waived service of the fugitive warrant and was hustled from the courtroom and into a waiting automobile by Lewis D. Bruno, chief of Schuylkill county detectives, and Corporal J. E. Hess of the Pennsylvania State Police. Both officials participated in the capture of Bruno at an uptown rooming house yesterday.

Bruno was debonair in manner, dapper in appearance, when he present administration.

Haven was named chief of police when Charles B. Mayne was mayor.
He was progressive in his ideas and

While he was chief the Gamewell

Make Sure Nickel In Parking Meter Is A Good One

"Slugs" Will Operate Meters,
But Are Not Good In Policeman's Eyes

Motorists who take advantage of the "free parking" available on parking meters with unexpired time, should be careful to see that the nickel which is operating the machine is a good one.

An observation of the meters on the downtown streets Saturday revealed the fact that "slugs" and Canadian coins will work these meters. It was also noticed however that the policemen in patroling the meter district, not only glance at the face of the meter to see if the car is legally parked, but they also look into the little glass window on the back of the meter and inspect the coin.

If the policeman finds an auto parked on a "slug" that machine would immediately be "tagged." Taking this into consideration the motorists should be exceedingly cautious before accepting "free parking" on the meters.

A glance in the small window just below the crank on the back of the meter, displays the last nickel placed in the machine and the one which is operating the meter.

CCC FIREFIGHTERS PERISH

At Least Twelve Die In Wyoming

Forest Fire In Shoshone National Park Traps CCC Boys In Inferno

VAST ACREAGE OF TIMBER DESTROYED

CODY, Wyo., Aug. 23.—Roll call today, it was feared, would reveal and even greater toll among the fire fighters, twelve of whom perished in the flaming forest of Shoshone National Park yesterday.
Sixty others were burned, two so seriously they may die.
Number Undetermined
It was impossible, authorities said last night to determine the exact number of victims until a checkup is made of the Civilian Conservation Corp boys and bureau of public roads employees recruited to fight the blaze.
In the excitement and confusion of battling the wind whipped fire which still raged on today, it was difficult to obtain an explanation of how the victims were trapped and whether anyone was particularly to blame for their deaths.
Earl Davis, public roads foreman, was in charge of the ill-fated detachment. All were frantically digging a fire line when the wind suddenly caught the flames up and the fire raced in great leaps through the crown of the trees.
"We were caught in a ring of fire before we hardly knew it was on us," said Davis who was badly burned himself.
Some of the CCC boys got excited," he said, and started to run, although we tried to hold them in the partial security of a rocky ledge. They wouldn't listen to us. Seven perished all in a heap. We found their bodies later."

Search All Night
Searchers plodded all night through the still smoking area in search of bodies with the red glow of the burning forest for their light.
Of the injured, twenty-two were brought to the hospital here after a tortuous trip down the mountainside by muleback and stretcher. The remaining were given treatment on the scene by a corps of heavily summoned doctors.
The fire broke out of control yesterday and had already destroyed thousands of acres of timberland by last night. Reinforcements were called up to fight the blaze but could make little impression on the hard driven flames. It was hoped that a change of wind or rain would come with dawn.
Six of the dead were identified as George Rogers, of George, Tex.; Rex Halle Junior, technician attached to the CCC at Cody; Billy Lee, of Cody bureau of public roads foreman; Jimmy Sabin, Hysattville, Wyo., crew foreman of a CCC camp at Tensleep, Wyoming and Al Clayton 45, of Sheridan, Wyo. forest service ranger, and Roy Bevins of Smithville, Tex.

GROVE CITY MAN LEAVES HOSPITAL

Hamilton Stevenson, of Grove City, who was taken ill while enroute to this city in a bus, and who was removed to the Jameson Memorial hospital for treatment, has recovered sufficiently to leave the hospital.

Some of the CCC boys got excited," he said, and started to run, although we tried to hold them in the partial security of a rocky ledge. They wouldn't listen to us. Seven perished all in a heap. We found their bodies later."

To Hold Rodeo.

For the first time in five years Lawrence county residents will have an opportunity to see a genuine wild west rodeo. The Bar X Ranch Rodeo is a company of 35 hard riding cowboys who will present three shows, one in the afternoon, following races, and two in the evenings at 7 and 9 o'clock. Broncho busting, bulldogging, trick riding and rope spinning are only part of the 20 acts listed. Cowboys and cowgirls in western raiment will try to ride the vicious bucking horses to the accompaniment of creaking leather, pounding hoofs, jingling spurs and the typical cowboy's "yippee".

The rodeo also features a famous Braham terraplane steer which has never been ridden under contest rules. This steer has been leased to some of the greatest fairs in the country. About 75 head of stock are part of the show.

A tour of the grounds early this morning revealed that the display of every conceivable type of domesticated barnyard animal or fowl will be on display. The barns and other exhibit buildings have been cleaned, fumigated and generally reconditioned for this year's show.

Committeemen anticipate record breaking crowds during the fair. Yes, friends, it's nearly here and it's a knockout, borrowing a fistic expression.

Five points, of great importance to all who are applicants and who will report to Senior high on either one of the days, were stressed today by Dr. Green. He listed them: First—Applicants must take pencil with them to the examination, but not paper.
Second—Applicants must have, to gain admittance, their special admission card issued out of Harrisburg.
Third—Examinees will be admitted to the examination rooms in the morning between 8 and 8:30 o'clock and in the afternoon between 1:30 and 2.

Fourth—There will be no examinations given in the following services: Nos. 11, 12, 14, and 43. (Known to examinees.) No examinations, either, in the following positions: Nos. 2119-1 and 2118-1.
Fifth—Examinees taking exams requiring typing may either take their typewriter with them or use one furnished at the school.
Dr. Green will send all examination papers to a designated point for checking when the final test is over on Thursday.

Similar mass examinations are being given this week at 17 other points in the state.

tion of whether it is better to stay home and be killed or go out and be killed. There might be various answers, but what most people would like to have is a recipe for living a life without danger.

Lawrence county farmers and fruit growers will be needing considerable help this fall in harvesting crops. The state WPA administrator suggests that men who have been laid off of the WPA be employed and urges such men to take employment on farms. This looks easy, but is it? As everybody knows there have been a lot of jokes about the WPA worker leaning on the shovel. Perhaps the farmer has even witnessed this sad sight. But not all WPA men have been shovel leasers. Before WPA was hatched, they were accustomed to give a good day's work for a day's pay. The majority are ready and willing to do it again if given a chance. Pa Newc observes that the farmer or fruit grower who gives them a chance, will find that they are still he-men if placed in the proper environment. It has not been the men's fault that some of them became shovel leasers under the WPA system.

In addition to putting an end to the heat wave which has gripped the district for the better part of a week, Saturday afternoon's rain added to the precipitation which has fallen this month, bringing the excess for the month to 2.21 inches. The total for the month is now 5.42 inches. Normal precipitation for August is 3.21 inches.

Referring to the insect serenade. There are three leading noise makers of the late summer. Dog-day harvest fly, crickets and the tree toad. Many people have taken the cry of the night hawk for that of one in the insect world.

There are two types of noises that come from the tree frog. The older frogs have more volume than the younger ones, thus making two different tones. Night conditions play a great part in the serenading by the tree frogs. On warm nights they are stronger and on cool nights much fainter.

fighting of 50,000 Japanese regular army reinforcements near Woosung fort. Within a few days, military authorities on both sides said, the Japanese will open an immense offensive.

While scores of shells boomed around the "Times Square" of Shanghai, at the intersection of Nanking and Chekiang roads, a "dud" fell from the roof to the ground floor of the five-story United States navy warehouse on Szechwan road. It did not explode.

One shell crashed through the skyscraper walls and exploded within the crowded building. The other big shell burst just outside, while smaller missiles sprayed the south corner of the store's old and new buildings and the central facade.

Fire Granary.

It fell five stories through the United States marines' granary, starting a fire which was, however, quickly quenched. Enough explosive was left to have blown up the whole building.

One foreigner, Klaus Eckhart, a 16-year-old German, was killed when shells fell around the Times Square of Shanghai, the bustling intersection of Nanking and Chekiang roads. A Swiss, A. U. Brunner, was seriously wounded.

Scenes more horrible than those caused in Tibet road on "bloody Saturday", August 14, by misdirected Chinese bombs sickened Shanghai when the vast Singer department store on Nanking road was struck.

Mangled bodies lay in pools of blood amid heaps of masonry, tangled steel, twisted and broken telephone wire, spark-thrashing street car wires, and broken glass.

The British flag was floating proudly over the tall edifice when the shelling began with dreadful suddenness. The store, its wings ranging from fourteen to eight stories, was packed with customers in spite of the fear which now grips the flaming, shell-torn city.

The store is owned by an Australian-born Chinese, but is registered as British, and two of the departments are British owned.

Windows for blocks around were shattered by the blasts. Streets were littered with dead and dying, and the debris of the skyscraper. Ambulances rushed from all parts of the city to the scene, and foreign volunteers and Boy Scouts cooperated in removing the dead, giving aid to the wounded, and clearing the streets of crowds.

Near the American consulate, only three blocks south, a shell hit Hamilton house, at the corner of Klange and Poochow roads.

Landing of the 50,000 Japanese reinforcements, bringing the total to around 75,000 in the Shanghai area, against 200,000 to 300,000 Chinese, came in spite of torrid shelling from Chinese batteries in the wide triangle at the confluence of the Yangtze and Woosung rivers.

Early in the day, under the cover of a barrage so heavy it made a veritable curtain of shells, the Japanese streaked ashore at several points.

Confirmation that a "big push" by the Japanese will rock Shanghai within a few days was voiced by a spokesman for the military high command, Major Naotake Utsunomiya.

"In view of their provocative attitude," said the major, "we hope to see a decisive blow against the Chinese troops before they have a chance to make a strategic withdrawal."

"We expect to have the Shanghai area cleared of hostilities very shortly."

He estimated that the Japanese are facing seven Chinese divisions, four of the first line and three of the second.

Chinese troops launched a general offensive in all sectors this morning. Major Utsunomiya admitted, but all were unsuccessful.

While bitterly fighting to hold their own in the long lines along the north of the smoldering international settlement, Chinese forces fiercely but vainly contested the landing of the Japanese troops.

Deaths of the Day

Mr. Henderson Buried
George Henderson of the Savannah road, an accident victim of last week, was laid to rest in Oak Park cemetery Saturday afternoon.

Services were conducted in the David M. Ritchie funeral home with Rev. R. J. Fredericks, pastor of the Calvary Presbyterian church, in charge, and friends served as pallbearers.

Colquhoun Funeral
Funeral services for William Colquhoun, of 407 Arlington avenue, were conducted at the residence on Sunday afternoon with the Rev. Philip C. Pearson, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, officiating.

Samuel Burroughs sang the beautiful hymn, "Abide With Me," during the services, accompanied by his daughter, Mae.

Pallbearers were Lawrence Snyder, Bruno Falvo, Arthur Padovese, Gilbert Sybold, William Dempster and Charles Littlecott. Interment was made in Castle View Burial Park.

The home was filled by the many friends of the young man and his family. There was a great abundance of beautiful flowers.

Funeral of Mrs. Suders.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Suders were conducted in the Clinton M. E. church Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with the pastor, Rev. W. W. Wells, in charge.

The services were attended by a great many friends. The profusion of flowers too, showed the regard in which Mrs. Suders was held.

Pallbearers were William McKim, Frank McKim, Joseph Davis, Joseph Wilson, Sterrett McCandless and William Shannon. Burial was made in Clinton cemetery.

George Padula.

George Padula, aged 7 years, of 410 Hawthorne street, died at 1:05 p. m. Saturday in the Jameson Memorial hospital as the result of a ruptured appendix suffered two days ago.

A little boy was born in New Castle on September 23, 1937, son of Charles and Stella Gray Padula, and he was a member of St. Vitus church. His father and mother, the following sisters and brothers, Nicholas, Lena, Angeline, Carrie, Lucy, Robert and Antoinette, all at home, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carmen DiGregorio, this city, survive.

Funeral mass will be celebrated Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock in St. Vitus church and interment will be made in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Rebecca Bart Berger.

Mrs. Rebecca Gardiner Bart Berger, wife of the late George Reis Bart Berger, died at Clinton, Md., on Sunday according to word received by her niece, Mrs. Allen (Jimmie) Matland Lane here.

Mrs. Berger resided in New Castle until the death of her husband in 1900. She leaves two sons, Andrew and George Jr., of Pittsburgh and one sister.

The body is being taken to Pittsburgh where services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock eastern standard time.

At the close of the services the funeral party will depart for New Castle and expects to arrive at Oak Park cemetery at 3:30 p. m. where burial will be made.

Girl Scouts Are Back From Camp

Two-Week Camping Period At Camp Phillips Ends On Sunday

Bronzed by two weeks of life in the open, New Castle's Girl Scouts numbering close to a hundred ended their camping stay at Camp Phillips on Sunday.

In spite of the rainy weather which interfered somewhat with the scheduled activities, the girls had an enjoyable time, and were reluctant to break camp and return home.

Saturday evening, a big party was held, and each girl contributed something to the program.

Some of the girls returned home Saturday evening, but most of those who attended camp, waited until Sunday morning before coming back to the city.

They claim that their conduct in the workhouse has been good, and that they have suffered sufficiently to satisfy the ends of justice. Mrs. Sadie De Huff says that her husband is working and needs her to look after the house.

The others who desire to lead the new life are Ruth Dolan, Grace Minor alias Grace Maloney, Hazel Walker, Josephine Dougall, Evelyn Trent, Mary Gilkey and Susie Monico. Judge Chambers made an order that they appear before him for a hearing on August 28. It will be up to Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard to provide transportation for them back to New Castle. He has not yet decided how they will be brought, but it will be either by bus or automobile.

AUTO FIRE IS CAUSE OF ALARM
Firemen were called to South Jefferson street at 8:25 Saturday evening to extinguish a fire in the auto of Henry Dunlap, caused by backfire of the carburetor. No action was taken by firemen.

was enroute toward New Castle coming from the direction of Slippery Rock, while Mr. Gibson was driving south on Route 19, Williams. It is claimed, did not stop for the intersection and drove in front of the Gibson car. The collision occurred at 5 o'clock.

Ambulances were summoned from New Castle and Leesburg and brought the injured to the Jameson Memorial hospital. Williams died immediately after being admitted to the hospital.

Lose Time

Considerable time was lost in summoning aid, due to the early hour that the accident occurred. There were few people up at Harlanburg, and it was almost a half hour before ambulances got to the scene.

Mrs. Gibson suffered lacerations and contusions of the head, and face. She has a broken nose and possible fracture of the skull. Her condition is said to be critical. Mr. Gibson suffered injuries to faced the bench in general sessions court. Hands in pockets, with a shimmering straw hat setting off an expensive grey suit, the one time Pennsylvania detective nodded and mumbled a monosyllabic affirmative when asked whether he was agreeable to waiving of the warrant.

Chief Bruno fended off his captive from newspapermen and flatly declined to permit reporters to accompany the car in which Bruno was sped on his way to Philadelphia. He said only that Bruno was "relieved" rather than chagrined over his capture and had cooperated in every way with the arresting officers.

"He is more contented now," said Bruno, "than he was as a fugitive."

Quite a number of times in the last week we have been complimented again on what a fine place we have to hold a funeral, and quite often where people were just not sure whether they wanted a funeral at our funeral home or not. After the funeral was over they were 100% sold on the idea.
We have found in the past that people have been surprised at prices quoted them, when they found that our prices were as low and sometimes lower than prices being advertised in newspapers over the country.

MRS. COULTER GUEST AT FIELD CLUB PARTY

Mrs. Jay E. Coulter, the former Eunice Johnston who was married recently, was honored at a luncheon-bridge and shower Saturday afternoon, at the New Castle Field club.

Sharing as co-hostesses were the honoree's sister, Mrs. Francis Sowers, of Mt. Lebanon, Pa., Mrs. W. L. Patterson and Miss Jean Glenn. Luncheon was served to 20 guests in the private dining room of the clubhouse, at a long table attractive with pastel decorations. A fragrant floral arrangement was guarded on either side by tapers in rainbow tints. Place cards which also served as tallies for the games, carried the nuptial motif.

After luncheon, the guest of honor was showered with an array of beautiful gifts of a miscellaneous nature which will beautify her new home in Cleveland, where she and Mr. Coulter have already taken up residence.

Cards and other games filled in the balance of the delightful afternoon, smart awards falling in auction bridge to Mrs. C. W. Brown, Mrs. George Waller, Mrs. C. M. Kennedy, contract; Mrs. Kenneth Beer; other contests, Miss Helen Hurst.

Conclude Vacation Visit

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Wood and daughter, Beverly Jane have returned to their home in Brooklyn, N. Y., after a vacation visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Wood, East Washington street, and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bowman, East Leasure avenue.

EAST SIDE FLOWER SHOW ON THURSDAY

East Side Garden club extends an invitation to anyone in the county having flowers of any kind, to exhibit them at their flower show which will be held Thursday afternoon and evening, August 26, in Epworth M. E. church. It is important that displays be placed by 3:30 Thursday morning.

Rules governing awards and prizes consisting of ribbons, will be given to amateurs only. Exhibitors are to furnish their own containers and be responsible for them.

Chairmen of the various sections follow: Section A, perennials and annuals, Mrs. W. R. McKnight, Mrs. Martha Williams; Section B, gladioli, Mrs. Mary Robinson; Section C, dahlias, Mrs. James Kennedy; Mrs. Laura Wallace; Section D, asters, Mrs. S. Kison, Mrs. Walter Kelly; Section E, zinnias, Miss Elma Badger; Section F, combinations, Mrs. Jennie Shaffer; Section G, novelties, Miss Della Glenn; Section H, educational, Mrs. Leonard Cramer; Section I, house plants, Mrs. Kathryn McEntire.

The final section is J, in which most unusual plants and flowers will be shown. Garden clubs especially, throughout the county, are expected to submit entries in this class, although this fact does not bar any other amateur flower grower from submitting unique specimens. Mrs. Harry Studevant will be in charge of these exhibits.

PURVIS-WEINGARTNER WEDDING IN SEPTEMBER

At a smart function in Butler Saturday afternoon, given by Mrs. Samuel G. Purvis, of West Pearl street, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. James G. Purvis of Oak street, in the former's home, announcement was made of the wedding date of their daughter and sister-in-law, Miss Mary Purvis, to Robert Alken Weingartner, son of former State Senator George T. Weingartner and Mrs. Weingartner, of New Castle.

Miss Purvis has chosen September 24 for her wedding which will be solemnized in her parents' home. The interesting news was made known by means of white gardenias to which were attached small white cards bearing the information, Little Nancy McCandless, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville McCandless, passed a silver tray containing the announcement favors.

One hundred and twenty five guests were received from 2 to 5 o'clock. Tea was served in a beautifully decorated dining room where the table was centered with pom-poms in shades of orchid, pink and white. Colors of pink and green predominated in other appointments, with gladioli, zinnias, roses, asters and snapdragons, accenting the decorative theme.

Pouring were Miss Ruth Henninger, Mrs. Roland L. Ehnman and Miss Emily West, and the aides were Miss Mary Mitchell, Miss Florence Hill, Mrs. Milton Vipond, of Cleveland Heights, Miss Margaret Morrison, of Grove City, and Miss Virginia Rumbaugh.

Among the guests were several from New Castle, including Mrs. George T. Weingartner, Mrs. J. A. Weingartner, Miss Helen Weingartner, Mrs. Charles A. Crowl, Mrs. Louis Hazen, Mrs. Oliver Hazen, Miss Charlotte Bartlett, Miss Gretchen Smith, Mrs. J. R. McPate.

Miss Purvis has been a teacher in Butler Senior high school for four years, prior to which she taught for two years, in West Middlesex. She is a graduate of Westminster college, at New Wilmington.

Mr. Weingartner was also graduated from Westminster. He is a member of the floral firm of Cunningham and Weingartner.

STEVENSONS LEAVE FOR NEW YORK CITY

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stevenson, who have been visiting in this vicinity for some weeks, left Sunday morning for New York City where Mr. Stevenson will undergo treatment for the arm which was so badly shattered in Porto Rico early in the summer.

After some days of hospital treatment Mr. Stevenson and his wife expect to return to their home in Porto Rico.

G. N. CLUB MEMBERS PICNIC AT CASCADE

Members of the G. N. club met for a picnic in the grove at Cascade Park on Sunday, with their families as guests.

A full course dinner was served at 5 o'clock at a table attractively decorated in white, with garden flowers forming a centerpiece. Marion Simione acted as toastmaster.

The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. Clotilda Ross, chairlady; Mrs. Christina Lombardo, Mrs. Anna DeCaprio, Mrs. J. Donati, Mrs. Edith Simione, Mrs. Lena Gasper, Mrs. Antoinette Francis, Mrs. Rose Coll, Mrs. Barbara Coll, Mrs. Marion Mancini, Mrs. Theresa Debiase, and Mrs. Nellie Sansosti.

During the evening the children played games with prizes going to Paul Lombardo, Jr., and Loretta Donati. Prizes for cards went to Mrs. J. Donati, Mrs. Anna DeCaprio, Sam Debiase and Guy Francis.

LARGE CROWD AT RIBLET REUNION

Sunday, August 21, the annual Riblet reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hays, Shields road, Youngstown. Nearly 100 relatives attended. Picnic dinners were served both at noon and in the evening.

During the afternoon, a business meeting was called by the president John Hawthorne, and the following officers were elected for next year: President, Harry Riblet, of New Castle, vice president, Ralph Miles, Sharpsville, secretary Mrs. G. R. Lostetter, Pulaski.

Table committee, Mrs. Ella Reimold, Grove City, Mrs. Mayo Porter, of New Castle, Mrs. John Hawthorne, of Mercer; sports committee, Ruabelle Hays, Youngstown; reception committee, Mrs. Grant Titus, Youngstown, and Mrs. Martha Riblet, Youngstown.

The group had a program of sports and sang old songs during the day. In 1936 the reunion will be held at the same place on the third Saturday of August.

Return From Philadelphia

Mrs. Jennie Reare, of East Wallace avenue and Mrs. Flora Sowash, of Spruce street, have returned from Philadelphia where they attended the fortieth Grand Temple Session of Pythian Sisters. Mrs. Sowash was the representative from Castle Temple, No. 37 of this city.

For the twenty-seventh consecutive time, Mrs. Reare was elected Grand Mistress of Finance. She was also elected president of the Past Grand Chiefs Association and Junior Supreme representative.

William Moffatt, East North St., also returned from Philadelphia where he attended Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias.

Birthday Event

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McClelland entertained 20 people in their home on Sampson street, on a recent evening. The affair honored the 11th birthday of their daughter, Laura Mae.

Games and music formed pastimes of a pleasant evening, prizes going to Demares Jones, Josephine Iorio, Maxine Rice and Harold Torio. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. McClelland, assisted by her daughter Frances.

Many lovely gifts were received by the honoree conveying best wishes for many happy returns of the day.

Return From Vacation.
Dr. and Mrs. Leland Hamilton and children Sandra, David and Mariel of Park avenue have returned home from a vacation at Chippewa Lake, O. Miss Janice Evans of Ellwood City was their guest while her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Evans were at Cape Cod and Boston.

FLETCHER REUNION AT CASCADE PARK

Annual reunion of the Fletcher family, descendants of Abraham and Letitia Fletcher, was held at Cascade Park Saturday, August 21 with over 100 guests present.

With well filled baskets, brothers and sisters and their families gathered in the morning to enjoy a sumptuous dinner in the grove at noon, and dinner in the evening. Although the weather was undesirable, it did not mar the occasion and everybody had a good time.

After dinner hours were featured by a business session with President Thomas F. Fletcher in charge. Minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. G. W. Parker.

An election of officers resulted as follows: president, William Fletcher; vice president, Mrs. Robert Edwards; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. G. W. Parker; recording secretary, Mrs. William Fletcher.

It was voted to hold the reunion next year at the same place, with the president later appointing table and sport committees. Games of various kinds were enjoyed the rest of the afternoon, with swimming among the amusements.

At the reunion were several old time friends of the parents of the Fletchers, among these being John Richardson who was called upon for a few remarks. He told of early family connections.

John Sargent, of Wheeling, W. Va., a relative, was next called upon and he related family history back 250 years connecting them with one of the greatest admirals in English history, Admiral Fletcher, of Blockwich, England. In this town, it was interesting to recall that most all the families there bore the name of Fletcher.

Other remarks were heard from Mrs. J. Sargent, William Fletcher, Mrs. Robert Edwards and T. F. Fletcher, the latter voicing appreciation of the group that sight had been restored to their eldest brother who last year could not see. He enjoyed the occasion this year immensely.

Among out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. John Sargent, Wheeling, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edwards and family, New Galilee; A. Fletcher and daughter, Mrs. T. F. Perry and family, Moravia; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Parker, Ambridge, Pa.; Charles Pariso, and daughter Eileen, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Jennings and family, Salem, O.; Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Fletcher and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Fletcher and family, Baden, Pa.

Mrs. Walter Gray and family, New Galilee; Mrs. Ernest McElroy and family, Niagara Falls; Mr. and Mrs. C. Edwards and family, Beaver; Mr. and Mrs. D. Stevenson, Ellwood; H. C. Fletcher, Elldort. A special guest was Mrs. Ruby Thomas, of Beaver Falls.

Local families present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Jennings, William Fletcher and family, Mrs. D. J. McKinney and family, Dr. T. J. Fletcher and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nicholson and family.

Before departure, the guests were presented with souvenirs, each girl receiving a vanity case, and each boy a pencil. Music followed.

Hemphill-Crothers Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hemphill, of Beaver Falls, announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Elizabeth to David Crothers, son of David Crothers, of Castlewood, Rev. Raymond Taylor, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Beaver Falls read the ceremony Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 17, and attending the couple were Miss Martha Bradow and Norman Mosca.

A dinner at Zellenople for the bridal party, supplemented the ceremony.

After today the couple will be at home at their newly furnished apartment in Corry, Pa., where Mr. Crothers is associated with the Montgomery Ward company.

Engagement News

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard F. Strub of the Darlington-Beaver Falls road, announce the engagement of their daughter, Genevieve Rosemarie, to James R. Gallagher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Gallagher, of New Castle. The engagement will terminate in a wedding, August 30.

MRS. C. GALLAGHER HONORED AT SHOWER

A miscellaneous shower for Mrs. Charles Gallagher, nee Mae Ward, was given by Bell Telephone Company operators at the cottage of Mrs. Gladys Wendt, of Cottage Grove recently.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Gladys Wendt, Mrs. Helen Dygert, Hazel Monroe, Peg Kelly, Mary and Mildred Patterson, Hilda and Alberta Ward.

Swimming and boating were enjoyed by the girls, and later in the evening bingo and bridge were played. Bridge prizes were captured by Mrs. Virginia Conover and Miss Charlotte Withers, while the bingo prize was won by Helen Jenkins. A hamburger fry and corn roast were held outdoors.

Mrs. Gallagher received many lovely and useful gifts from her friends.

W. F. N. M. Club

Mrs. Claire Cook delightfully entertained members of the W. F. N. M. club at her Lakewood Beach home, Friday evening.

The order of the event was a corn roast and a very enjoyable evening was spent by the club members. Twenty members of the club joined in the evening activities at the Cook home, and Mrs. Cook proved to be a very capable hostess.

PICNIC LUNCHEON FOR SECTION ONE

A picnic luncheon on Wednesday afternoon of this week at the residence of Mrs. W. E. Ferver on the New Wilmington road is planned for members of Section One, First Christian church.

The picnic will be at 1 o'clock; it will be the first outing to be enjoyed by this group for quite a number of weeks.

At Field Club

One of last week's events at the New Castle Field Club was a dinner given by Mrs. James R. Magoffin, of Mercer, in honor of her brother, W. J. McGibbon, his wife and son James, of New York, who are passing a fortnight in Mercer.

Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Richardson entertained at their home Saturday evening in honor of the visitors and Mrs. Magoffin has issued invitations for a luncheon and card party for Mrs. McGibbon next Thursday.

BIRTHDAY DINNER FOR MRS. ROBISON

Honoring the birthday of Mrs. W. N. Robison of Union township, which occurred today, August 23, a family dinner was held Sunday which was a complete surprise to the honoree.

Returning home from church, Mrs. Robison found other members of her family to the number of 14, assembled and they all enjoyed an excellent dinner which had been prepared by the daughters.

HE ASKED FOR IT

ONE of the bitterest castigations ever given a United States senator upon the floor of the senate was that heaped upon Senator Joseph F. Guffey of Pennsylvania on Saturday. It came, not from Republicans, but from tried and true Democrats, liberal Democrats who have placed principle above party in the session just closed.

Guffey, a "freshman" senator took the air a few nights ago and practically read out of the party such Democrats as Wheeler of Montana, Burke of Nebraska, O'Mahoney of Wyoming, and Holt of West Virginia. The only crime they had committed, from the tenure of Guffey's remarks, was that they had not stayed with the president, presumably on the supreme court packing issue.

The replies of the Democratic senators mentioned were caustic, bitter and justified. Said Burke of Nebraska, "Pennsylvania may want that kind of representation. If it does, God bless them let them have it but they might as well have a parrot in the secretary's office and bring it in here when the senator's (Guffey) name is called and let it say, yes Mr. President I'm for that."

The state of Pennsylvania is certainly not dignified when a senator from another state makes such statements concerning a Pennsylvania senator. Neither it is dignified when the words and actions of the Pennsylvania senator call down such exhorting remarks.

It was a sharp reprimand for Senator Guffey. But then he asked for it.

ON DRESSING SANELY

The male species has stubbornly resisted all efforts designed to provide him with a modicum of comfort in hot weather. It almost took a crow-bar to get that hat from his head during the summer, and for years he refused to even consider the thought of wearing lightweight suits made from linen and seersucker cloth. Some of the brave lads, however, broke the traditional spell, threw their hats away, put on white suits, and wore shoes that ranged from sneakers to sandals. It helped a lot but we can go still further.

What is the necessity of wearing a coat in the office, and why a necktie which in the heat of the day becomes nothing less than a limp string? We have always accused the female of being an eccentric dresser, but you won't catch the girl wearing a coat or muffling her neck with a colored rope. And not infrequently, if she has the proper amount of suntan, she will go without stockings, and her shoes are certainly air-conditioned.

A girl has no hesitancy in wearing a dress that has no back to it, but a man, fettered with the shackles of convention, will think twice before he even removes his coat. Why he persists in being uncomfortable is not very understandable. Perhaps it is a hangover from the primitive days, or maybe it is just plain foolishness.

AVOIDING BONDED RESERVE

It is reassuring to learn that treasury officials now incline toward modifying the social security act so as to avoid ultimately piling up a reserve fund of about $49,000,000,000 for old age insurance. There is a principle involved, seriously affecting the economic well-being of the nation. It cannot be dealt with at this session of congress, which is just as well. Haste should not be permitted to interfere with adequate consideration of the merits of a substitute pay-as-you-go plan.

Between-now and next winter time enough will be afforded for digesting the substitutes. The impounding of such a reserve by the issuance of securities, which would increase the present national debt by 135 per cent, is an undertaking altogether too formidable, besides being a constant temptation to future congresses to make diversions of treasury funds.

No longer is there any question of the power of the federal government under the general welfare clause of the constitution to make grants-in-aid to the states for old age insurance since the supreme court decision of last May. Nor is there any doubt of the persuasiveness of the statute upon states to set up unemployment insurance systems. The proof of the pudding is in the eating, and every last state has set up such a system, whereas only one, Wisconsin, had such a system four years ago.

Unhappily power to act in any given direction does not imply wisdom to act correctly. The reserve system under the federal insurance plan has not been subjected to severe criticism in financial and commercial quarters, much of it soundly based. The effect of a top-heavy debt structure, it has been maintained, would be a severe depressant on business. This is the problem the congress will be called upon to attack when it reconvenes in January, and doubtless a better, and safer, way will be found than loading the government down with back-breaking debt.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

ROAD TO WEALTH

Mike didn't get rich in his thirty years on the job. He didn't get rich with the convincing talents of ventriloquism or through the impromptu entertainment he gave train passengers. He didn't get into the higher income brackets by playing contra-bass with the university orchestra, and he didn't silver-line his pockets in teaching town kids the art of bull-fiddling.

Mike didn't get rich at all—that is, in money. But when Leonard "Mike" Gross retired last month as baggage man at the Southern Pacific station in Eugene, Oregon, he was accounted a millionaire in that rare wealth which is measured loosely in terms of happiness and friendship. Both Eugene and his company acknowledged him as a respected and beloved citizen.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

EMOTION AND DIGESTION

"DEAR DR. MYERS: Bruce is five and a half years old. He is anything but the so-called problem child. He is a very serious-minded youngster, easily impressed, rather high strung. However, he is in excellent physical condition; eats well, and loves his play.

"Bruce started afternoon kindergarten in September; and just before going to school he would apparently lose his appetite, and if he did eat, would vomit immediately after. This took place on school days only, and would occur almost every day of the week.

"Now that he has changed to morning kindergarten, the same thing is happening. He will get up and I will notice by the general expression on his face that his stomach is upset, and sure enough, if he does eat his breakfast, which consists of cooked or dry cereal preceded by fruit—and a glass of milk—the vomiting will take place. On Saturdays and Sundays he eats a hearty breakfast and it stays down.

"I called his instructor and asked if Bruce was properly adjusted to the school surroundings. Although he is very self-conscious, I was told that particularly in the afternoon class he was very much adjusted and also that he did his work nicely. . . . He seems to enjoy his school a great deal.

"Kindness hasn't helped, punishment hasn't helped. We have changed his menu to just orange juice and tea on school mornings—this is the second week—he has retained the liquids. . . .

Answer:—Clearly there is some grave emotional disturbance in relation to his school work. It may be too exciting for him. More likely the trouble is related to fears and worries he has in getting along with some or all the other children. Continuing for some while with the liquid diet in the morning, attract some of the children of his kindergarten to your home for informal play.

Nothing so unusual about this case, I have come across a number of similar instances in which vomiting occurred in connection with a situation involving violent emotional disturbance. To illustrate, a certain first grade child vomited when red paper was distributed in the classroom. A second grader vomited as soon as she set foot on the school premises, every school day. A baby ten months old vomits when rain beats against the window panes at night. Scores of children vomit during eating scenes. In all such cases the trouble begins under an emotional storm in connection with the specific situation. In high-brow language, there is unfavorable conditioning, and the child must be re-conditioned. The first grader was cured when he was induced to carry his breakfast to school and eat it on arrival.

I...I...I

When my family is away I don't eat as much as I should—but what husband does?

I am never going to wear a stiff, starched collar again.

No one has ever satisfactorily explained to me what a "nervous breakdown" really is.

I've never met a "sensitive" person who didn't seem to be proud of it.

Nor one with a violent temper who wasn't secretly proud of his tendency to fly off the handle.

I haven't owned a gun for 25 years. A few days ago in our town a policeman shot himself in the leg while trying to shoot a burglar. . . . What do I think I'd do if I met one in the house?

I have known few women who really like "women." They are individual women, but they are very harsh toward the whole sex.

But every man I know frankly admits that he likes men.

When I play a game I play to win and why should I pretend otherwise? . . . And when I win I gloat a little.

I wouldn't take an oath that I never cheated in a school examination.

I will admit that I do not always drive carefully.

One vanity is no longer mine. . . . I do not look with satisfaction in a mirror.

You may think you are an excellent judge of human nature but I'm beginning to have doubts about myself.

"What are you doing, dear?" asked a mother of her little daughter, who was making scrawls and scratches on a piece of paper.

"But, my dear," answered the mother, "you do not know how to write."

"Oh, that doesn't matter," replied the child, "Betty doesn't know how to read either."

Anti-New Dealers Under Fire. Senators Face Re-Election Fight. Capper's Vote Indicates Farm View.

By LESLIE EICHEL

Central Press Columnist

MUCH IS SAID concerning "re-prisals" against the six chief anti-New Deal Democratic senators—Burke of Nebraska, Byrd and Glass of Virginia, Copeland of New York, Gerry of Rhode Island and King of Utah. Those six voted against confirmation of Senator Hugo L. Black of Alabama as a supreme court justice. To which may be added Pat McCarran of Nevada, who was ill.

But "reprisals," if any, will have to be a long way off in most cases. Of the seven mentioned, only one comes up for re-nomination in 1938—McCarran. He has been a bitter anti-New Dealer, and plenty of New Dealers in Nevada are gunning for his post.

Edward Raymond Burke of Nebraska, most bitter of all anti-New Deal Democrats, does not come up for re-nomination until 1940. It is a long time to wait for a Republican senator, George W. Norris, became an independent in order to support President Roosevelt, should have as its other senator a Democrat who became rabidly anti-Roosevelt. Both the president and Senator Norris carried Nebraska by good margins in 1936.

COLOR SCHEME
When mother nature dresses up With lovely scenery She puts the yellow buttercup Where yellow ought to be.

She never reads a magazine As far as I can tell. To learn what colors go with green And yet she dresses well.

I think like me, she reaches in And grabs what's handy by. And the result she seems to win Is lovely to the eye.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

W. P. A. Concert
Tuesday Evening

Seventh Warders Will Again Be Treated To A Concert By The W. P. A. Musicians

Members of the W. P. A. orchestra will present another concert on Tuesday evening at the local park on North Liberty street for the enjoyment of the music lovers of the ward.

The musicians, under the direction of Ben Shulansky and Harry Hammond, have planned an excellent program for the evening, which will be made up of a variety of selections guaranteed to please either the classical or popular music minded.

The concert, which will begin promptly at 8 o'clock, is being presented under the auspices of the Seventh Ward Civic club.

MERCER SHERIFF TO SELL PROPERTIES

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 23.—Sheriff Clyde G. Scowden is advertising 31 tracts of real estate in various parts of the county for sale at the September term of quarter sessions court, the sales to be held the Tuesday following Labor Day instead of the first Monday as is customary. The list, usually the smallest of the owners of a number of properties against which executions had been filed and writ issued succeeded in obtaining stays in the proceedings which it is hoped will enable them to negotiate settlements and save their homes.

Crashes Reported Over
Week End

Junior McGuire, R. D. 6, reported to police Saturday night that he was driving north on North Mercer St. at the intersection of North street and his car was struck by an auto travelling west on North street. His report showed that Miss Dorothy Cartwright, 1004 Rose avenue, received a laceration above her left eye.

Frank Padula, 731 Pearl street, told police he was driving Saturday night in Taylor street and reported that Joe Guerrero, 801 Court St., walked into the cartway and was struck by his car. Guerrero was taken to the New Castle hospital.

W. C. Smith, R. D. 5, told police he parked his motorcycle on North Mercer street, near Laurel Boulevard and a car travelling north struck the motorcycle. The autoist did not stop his car.

Alberto Barletto, 1115 Pollock avenue, and Charles Smiley, 109 Smithfield street, drove cars that collided last night in Allen street.

AROUND CITY HALL

Bicycles are licensed in Akron, according to local police. They discovered this at 2:55 a. m. today when they took into custody Walter Siskinski on suspicion of being a runaway boy. According to his story, he ran away from an institution in Cleveland, rode to Akron, stole a bicycle and rode to this city. The bicycle had a license, issued by the city of Akron.

Glenn R. Throop, city engineer, is on his vacation. While away his duties will be carried on by other employees of the engineering department.

It will not be long until all of the city police have had their vacation. At present Police Chief Ralph Criswell is vacationing in Virginia.

Probabilities are that today council will authorize the insertion of advertisements asking for bids for two new cars for the police department.

Homecoming Day
At West PittsburghMethodist Episcopal Church
Plans Three Big Programs
For Next Sunday

West Pittsburgh Methodist Episcopal church will observe homecoming day on Sunday, August 29, with three fine programs, morning, afternoon and evening.

All old members, friends and pastors are being invited to attend and take part in the services. Special music will be given by the young people's vestal choir, the Tanner sisters, Griddle quartet and by Mr. Burroughs, of Ellwood City.

It is suggested that those who wish to spend the day at the church bring their lunches; provisions will be made for those who come from a distance.

WAMPUM

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC
Members of the Methodist church enjoyed their annual outing and basket picnic Thursday afternoon and evening.

Games and sports were the afternoon's pleasure for young and old. Former professor of the Wampum high school, Mr. and Mrs. Ebbert of Sandy Lake, were out-of-town guests.

About seventy-five were present.

CHURCH NOTES

Services in the local churches Sunday are as follows:

Presbyterian: 9:45 a. m., Sunday school, Butler Henson, superintendent; 11 a. m., service, Rev. J. G. Bingham.

Methodist: 10 a. m., Sunday school, Chas. Davis, superintendent; 11 a. m., service; 7:30 p. m., service, Rev. L. V. Mohrman.

Clinton M. E.: 10 a. m., Sunday school, Jas. Snyder, superintendent; 6:45 p. m., Epworth League; 7:30 p. m., service, Rev. W. W. Wells.

First Pentecostal Mission: 10 a. m., Sunday school, Ralph Harper, superintendent; 11 a. m., service; 7:30 p. m., service, Alfred Bunny.

St. Monica's: 9 a. m., mass, Holydale 10:30 a. m., mass, Rev. Fr. A. Maloney.

HOME COMING

Clinton M. E. members will celebrate their annual home coming Sunday afternoon and evening on August 28.

It has been an all day meeting the past years, but owing to the extreme heat, it was decided to eliminate the all day, and have one evening lunch, everybody bringing their lunch or basket.

WAMPUM NOTES

Mrs. J. M. Yates and Mrs. Chester Johnston, of Mahoningtown, were guests of Mrs. R. L. Sharpe yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kuiken, of Chicago, Ill., are guests of their brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Kuiken, Clyde street.

Mrs. John Laughlin, Miss Anna Dan, and Charles and Jas. Harkett, have returned from Coatesville, where they visited the former's son, Joseph Laughlin.

The competitive system may be hard, but did you ever see a man cut costs and improve quality if he had a monopoly?

Youth And Age Are Compared By Pastor

Dr. J. J. McIlvaine Gives Thoughtful Sermon At Cascade Park Sunday

Dr. J. J. McIlvaine, First Presbyterian minister, was in charge of the union worship service in Cascade Park Sunday evening and delivered a message on youth and old age and the adjustments that must be made in both.

Bones become brittle as old age is reached, and that cannot be helped, the minister said, but there is no reason why the minds must become brittle, too. He compared the caution of age to the daring of youth; and deplored the tendency of age to develop cynical indifference and petty pride, qualities which lead to an attitude of independence of God.

The church quartet, comprised of Mrs. Lillian Stambaugh, Mrs. Madeline Rush, Andrew Lorenzo and Charles Richards, with Thomas H. Webber, Jr., as director and pianist, took charge of the music after the brass quartet's prelude.

Because of the damp, cool weather the services were conducted in the park pavilion instead of at the bandstand. There was a large throng of people present and it was necessary to place many extra chairs to accommodate them all.

The order of service was as follows: Call to worship—"Thy Way Among All Nations."

Invocation prayer—Dr. McIlvaine. Hymn—"Abide With Me."

Scripture reading, 12th chapter of Ecclesiastes—Rev. Philip C. Pearson.

Anthem, "Just When I Need Him Most"—quartet.

Prayer—Dr. N. E. White.

Hymn—"Jesus Lover Of My Soul"

Announcements—Rev. Thomas B. Shearer, chairman of the park committee.

Anthem, "Lo a Voice From Heaven"—quartet.

Sermon—Dr. McIlvaine.

Next week at Cascade Park the New Castle Ministerial Association will offer as the speaker Rev. Elmer Lehto, pastor of the Finnish Lutheran church.

Smart young men are urged to take government jobs. It's their only chance to be successful without being penalized.

Chinese Honesty Is World Famous

Chinese Always Pay Off Bad Debts, Regardless Of Circumstances

CHINESE LIKE TO DRIVE BARGAIN

Central Press Washington Bureau 602 Times-Herald Bldg.
By CHARLES F. STEWART
Central Press Columnist
WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Appropos the Jap-Chinese conflict—
The Chinese have a reputation for honesty. I think they deserve it.
To illustrate:

One evening, when I was living in Shanghai, a wretched-looking Chinese stopped me, as I was turning into the recently-bombed Palace hotel, where I was a guest.
His name was Boo Yung Hoy. He told me in his pidgin English. He had, he explained, been a merchant. That is to say, he had been peddling, on the street, a little trayful of oriental curios. A naval officer, he said, had bought his entire stock—I suppose to take home, as trifling presents to friends in the Occident. Then he discovered that he hadn't the small change to pay for his purchase. Accordingly, he told Boo to meet him at his gang-plank and he would settle. Boo arrived there to learn that the officer's ship had already sailed.
Boo was ruined. He wanted to know what I thought he ought to do about it.

STEWART ADVANCES MONEY

Of course I could not find his naval officer for him. I did not even know his nationality.

Yet a white man feels a certain sense of responsibility for the dirty tricks played by other white men upon native folk in a place like Shanghai. I asked Boo how heavy his loss was. He answered that it was a couple of dollars "Mex", or about $1 in U. S. money.

"Will I ever get my cash back," I asked, in my best "pidgin", "If I advance it to you?"

Boo assured me that I would. Kissing my cheeks goodbye (for I knew that was the last I'd see of 'em) I surrendered the two "Mex" silver cartwheels into his possession.

READY TO REPAY

But eight or ten evenings later Boo again was lurking for me at the entrance to the Palace. He related that he once more was established in business and would keep me informed. He did, at one or two-week intervals. Finally he announced that he was ready to begin paying dividends. I advised him to wait a bit. He admitted that he wasn't overcapitalized but assured me that he did not propose to have me think I had been flim-flammed.

After a matter of months I was ready to return to San Francisco. Chancing to meet Boo, I told him so.

"All right," said Boo. "I can settle with you now, in full," plus interest.

"No, Boo," I said. "Some time I may come back here. If I do, I'd like to have a partnership in a business in China."

If I went back there now and Boo Yung Hoy still is alive, and I could find him, I'll gamble that that Chinaman would recognize my claim on him. I hope he has become a Mandarin.

HOW THEY BARGAIN

The Chinese do like to dicker. When I was living at the Palace hotel my wife wanted to buy a "Mandarin coat"—a kind of glorified bathrobe.

She consulted our "room boy". This Chinese chap liked us (I had tipped him extravagantly).

"I have a friend," he said, "who has just what you want. The price is $100 Mex."

"He'll come in and say, '150'. You say, 'No, $50'. Then he'll say, 'Well, $140'. Then you'll say, 'The best I'll do is $60'. Then he'll say, '$130', and you'll say, '$70'. Ultimately you and he will come pretty close to an agreement. At that juncture I'll come in and suggest, 'Why don't you compromise on $100?'

"And you'll agree immediately. That will be the price you will have been agreed on. Both sides' faces will have been saved. It will be a perfect bargain."

It worked perfectly like that. The bargain was made beforehand. The negotiation was a mere formality. I sat in the next room and listened. It was nothing but a recitation.

IN "PIDGIN" ENGLISH

All these conversations, of course, are not in plain English, but in "pidgin", or "business" language. It isn't "pigeon"—a bird. Don't mix pigeons with "pidgin Chinese."

END SUNBURN SUFFERING

"For the enclosed money order send me San-Cura Ointment. We cannot get anything that is nearly so good for sunburn and sores of all kinds."—O. B. McIntyre, Dummer, Okla.

San-Cura Ointment is such a marvelous healing antiseptic ointment that it is sold on money-back plan.

It relieves itching skin, eczema, fever sores, boils, piles, frostbite, chilblains, burns, chapped skin and sunburn. 35c and 60c a jar.

Use San-Cura Soap to promote a fine complexion. It is a splendid baby soap. 25c at Eckerd's and all drug stores.

An appeal to the supreme court has been taken in the case of Mabel S. Long against James Sakleson. The plaintiff secured a judgment against the defendant for injuries sustained in an auto accident. An execution was issued and an attempt was made to summon the State Insurance association as garnishee. The lower court passed on questions of law in dispute, which was followed by an appeal to the supreme court.

In the case of Mary Copper and Carolyn Copper against L. J. Copper and others, D. D. Angell has filed exceptions to an order of court relating to a sale of property in Union township belonging to Ralph C. Copper. Angell was present at a public sale and bid $300 for two parcels of land. His bid being the highest, the property was knocked down to him and he paid ten per cent, pending the confirmation of the sale. Afterwards it is claimed that Katie Fye offered $350 for the property and the court directed the administrator to make out a deed which should become absolute in 20 days unless objections were raised. Angell now raises the objection that Katie Fye was present at the sale and did not bid. He further agrees to pay $350 for the property. The case will be given further consideration.

In the case of John J. Millard against the Lawrence Savings & Trust company in which the question of the ownership of an account is involved, Attorney William J. Caldwell presented a petition of the trust company for an interpleader.

Registration Clerk Thomas Edmonds reports that registrations are still coming in from the country districts at the rate of 25 or 30 a day.

As voters can only register up until September 1 to be eligible to vote at the coming primary, and there are about 10,000 unregistered, they will have to come in at a much faster rate to make much of a change on the registration books.

Motion to strike off a judgment has been filed in the case of Louisa Rubino against Harden Green and Robert J. Shearer, a case involving the obtaining of a judgment on a lease. It is claimed by the defendants that the warrant of attorney on the lease attached to the confession of judgment does not authorize a confession of judgment for any rent which might be due by defendants to plaintiff subsequent to the expiration of the lease, which expired on April 1, 1937. It is claimed that the lease did not provide for an extension beyond the date for which it was written. A rule was issued on the plaintiff to show cause why the judgment should not be stricken off.

William H. Pritchard of 119 Laurel boulevard, father of Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard, was at the sheriff's office Saturday, preparatory to leaving on a trip to Edmonston, Canada, next week. Mr. Pritchard, who has passed his 80th milestone, says the first 80 years are the hardest, and that he proposes to have more recreation during the next 80 than he has in the past. While in Canada he expects to enjoy himself fishing.

District Attorney Mont L. Alley was surprised the other day when, an agent of the Department of Interior at Washington came into his office to secure some information regarding Chief Sunlight and his wife, Princess Sunlight, who were married here in the county jail while serving a sentence for violating the law as medicine vendors. The chief and princess had given the authorities of Lawrence county considerable trouble, but it seems that after they got out of jail they must have gone to Washington on a honeymoon trip. At any rate they complained to the Department of Interior that they had been persecuted here and on account of their Indian blood, the department began to spend money on an investigation.

Just how much has been spent to date there is no means of knowing, but from the information given by the department agent to the district attorney, it must have been considerable. It appears that the department had started out to trace their genealogy, and it was discovered that Chief Sunlight is one-half Chippewa Indian and the other half probably Spanish. In the case of Princess Sunlight the agent said that she is one-third-second Ojibwa Indian, and the balance Negro. Under the laws it appears that she would have the right to be classed as an Indian, and both she and Chief Sunlight could get a home on the Indian reservation. However, since they were living off the reservation, there was not much that the government could do for them. After District Attorney Alley had given his story of the case the agent was pretty well satisfied that the chief and princess had no grounds for their alleged persecution story.

Princess Sunlight was formerly known as Mrs. George Gilliam of Youngstown, O. It was there that the chief met her and they formed the alliance that ripened into love and a wedding at the Lawrence county jail. Mrs. Gilliam claimed that she had never been legally married to Gilliam, and so the services of the divorce court were not necessary.

It would be interesting to know how much the government has spent in running down the pedigrees of the chief and princess, but government agents must be kept busy.

VOLANT

LADIES AID MEETING

The Ladies Aid of the Methodist church held their regular monthly meeting in the church parlors on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Anna Marete, the president, was in charge of the meeting. Routine business was transacted, followed by the election of officers for the coming year, with the resulting officers: president, Mrs. P. M. Cox; vice president, Mrs. Ora Garner; treasurer, Mrs. L. V. Martin; secretary, Mrs. Mable Stuart.

VOLANT NOTES

W. J. Wilkin was a Pittsburgh visitor on Tuesday. Billie Bruce, of Slippery Rock, is visiting friends here. William Bilger, of Youngstown, O., spent the week end at his home here.

Mrs. Ida Broome, of New Jersey, is visiting her sister, Mrs. O. M. Bilger, this week.

Warren Wilkin, Jr., is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Snyder of Franklin, Pa.

William Hunt, of Princeton, was the week end guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hunt.

Jimmie Cox, who was severely injured when struck by lightning a few weeks ago, still continues to improve.

Mr. and Mrs. William Van Meter, of Coronado Beach, Florida, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hunt on Sunday. The Van Meters are former residents of Lawrence county and are visiting friends and relatives for a few weeks.

S. D. Winger is convalescing at his home here after a tonsil operation at the Jameson Memorial hospital on Monday.

Mrs. E. A. Caldwell and grand-daughter, Ellen Caldwell, of New Castle, spent Wednesday with the former's sister, Mrs. W. J. Allen.

Jean Johnston, of Leesburg Station, has concluded a visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Blevins and Mrs. Hettie Johnston.

ASK FOR LICENSE John Albert Buckley, of New Castle, and Keo Marie Thomas, of Hubbard, O., made application for a marriage license at Beaver last week.

RACHEL REBEKAHS AT CASCADE PARK PARTY

Among delightful social affairs of the past few days was the entertainment provided at Cascade Park Friday evening, for members of Rachel Rebekah Degree team 40, I. O. O. F., when Mrs. Bert Smith, of Park avenue, and Mrs. E. B. Ray, of Hillcrest avenue, were gracious hostesses.

Initial procedures were devotionals conducted by Mrs. Kate Stanley, followed by the business session and bingo. Prizes in the latter contest were won by Mrs. Walter McCormick, Mrs. Sadie Parks and two children, Jean Hill and William Sumner.

A delightful luncheon was served late in the evening, at tables effectively adorned with summer flowers. Fun was provided at this time by a guessing contest in which the group was mystified by "something or other" which had been placed in a luscious angel food baked by Mrs. Bert Smith. Mrs. Clarence Smith won the prize which was the cake.

Among the 35 guests present were several visitors, Mrs. Walter McCormick, Miss Margaret McCormick, Wayne McCormick, William Sumner and Jean Hill.

The September meeting will be held at the Kelso home at Parkerstown Corners, with Mrs. Kelso, Mrs. Clark Bull and Mrs. Sadie Parks co-hostesses. It will take place on the third Friday of the month.

REFORMED CHURCH PLANS CORN ROAST

A corn roast to which the entire church membership has been invited is being sponsored by Reformed Presbyterian's O. C. Orr class on Friday evening of this week.

JOHN M. CARR TO OBSERVE BIRTHDAY

Another birthday year has rolled around for John M. Carr, of 107 Atlantic avenue.

Mr. Carr, who has been confined to his bed for the past eight years, Labor Day, will celebrate with a supper in the company of his family on his birthday which falls due Wednesday, August 25. He will be 75 years of age.

Among the guests at the Carr home for the birthday event will be Mr. Carr's only sister and brother, Melissa Houston and S. N. Carr.

Mr. Carr's relatives, neighbors and friends may call in the evening to spend those hours with him. It is probable that he will also be the recipient of many cards and flowers which are usually sent him from other well wishers.

MAHONING VALLEY CLUB HAS PICNIC

Mahoning Valley Garden club members held their annual picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rodgers, of Edensburg, Thursday evening.

There were sixty guests present, including special guests, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Byers, Miss Helen Rodgers and Mrs. L. L. Rodgers of Pulaski and Mr. and Mrs. John Brewster of Mount Jackson.

The next meeting will be on the second Thursday of September, with Mr. and Mrs. John Matthews, of Edensburg. The meeting will be in the form of a corn roast.

Class Reunion

Members of the Shenango township high school graduating class of 1931 gathered at Cascade park last Friday evening for their reunion. Two out of town members were honored, Martha Swisher Lawton, of Elizabethtown, and C. Hoover, of Michigan. Also present were Marie Hoque, Margaret Cowmeadow, Glenn Johnston and Cyril Allen.

The event was in the form of a wiener roast. The major part of the evening was spent in enjoying the various amusements. The affair was most delightful.

that under an act of Pennsylvania council could set the hours. Mayor Charles E. McGrath said the legislature passed such a law but did not name the hours apparently believing that such would conflict with constitutional rights.

William Llewellyn who represented the barbers this morning said that the barbers wanted the hours designated because it would be beneficial to the health of barbers. He told of the regulations under which barbers now operate.

In regard to the request of petitioners who want good store hours set, Cobau wrote:

Grocery Stores

"What has been said with reference to barber shops would substantially apply to an ordinance prescribing closing hours for retail food stores, except that in this case it is even more difficult to see that any injury to the public might result from unlimited closing hours of grocery stores."

"While there is no special act of legislature with reference to grocery stores as is true with reference to barber shops, we are inclined to the belief that if such an ordinance would be a valid exercise of the police power, the authority of council to enact the same would be sustained under section 2403-54 of the third class city code."

He wrote that the supreme court of Ohio upheld an ordinance prescribing closing hours of barber shops and in so doing went farther than any other court has yet gone in stretching the police power. He also wrote that in the case of Olds vs. Klotz, the Ohio supreme court held that an ordinance of the city of Toledo prescribing closing hours for retail food and grocery stores was an invalid exercise of the police power and unconstitutional.

the rebels easily to break through the ring of defenses built for the last several months around Santander.

Hundreds of men and boys marched out of the city today to dig trenches, throw up earthworks, and otherwise strengthen the pill-box arrangement which has so far completely failed to daunt the insurgents.

The sole loyalist success in the north was the bombardment of long-beleaguered Oviedo.

One shell made a direct hit on the church of San Juan, which had been converted into a rebel arsenal. The whole city rocked with the terrific explosion, and the smoke from nearby fires covered Oviedo with a black pall.

DRUNK DRIVER HELD IN SISTER'S DEATH

KINGWOOD, W. Va., Aug. 23.—Asa Stewart, 21, driver of an automobile, in which his sister was killed, was sentenced to six months in jail and fined $25.

Justice of the Peace Grant Whitehair, of Terra Alta, sentenced Stewart on a charge of drunken driving. Prosecutor M. C. Synder, said he would ask for a manslaughter indictment at the next session of the grand jury. Stewart's sister, Mrs. James Supolt, was killed last Saturday.

SLIGHTLY INJURED

Mrs. Hazel Gohn, 162 Holford street, Niles, O., is confined to the New Castle hospital with injuries she received in an automobile accident on the Butler road, Saturday afternoon about 3 o'clock. She sustained injuries about one of her ears and a possible fracture of the chest.

Her husband escaped injuries. A sophisticated person is one who can read front page news and tell whether the event was providential or press agent.

straight issue between his New Deal and those Democrats of senate and house who succeeded in defeating or sidetracking a major part of his program in the recent session.

The president's action on the sugar quota bill may give a hint of his ultimate determination. Four cabinet officers and the governors of Hawaii and Puerto Rico oppose the manner in which congress drew this measure in its dying hours.

Quotas Expire.

Existing quotas under the Jones-Costigan act expire December 31, 1937. Should Mr. Roosevelt veto the bill now before him on the ground it discriminates unduly against Hawaii and Puerto Rico, it would strengthen the belief he has a special session in mind. Otherwise, American sugar-beet growers would be at the mercy of Cuban importations under a preferential tariff from December 31 until the regular January session of congress could get around to remedying the situation.

Any call of a special session, close advisers intimated, would be predicated on the need of crop control legislation before January. This would involve making the farmers vocal in a demand for early action restoring basic principles of the old AAA. Some of the president's aides are urging that he best could arouse this demand with some well-timed speeches.

But a special session would be expected also to take up the wage-hour bill that a determined bloc of southern Democrats smothered in the house rules committee, government reorganization which died in the senate and other features of the Roosevelt program.

The schism in the Democratic party, as a result of the supreme court fight, and other issues of the session just closed, already is deep. Presidential decision to once more take his case direct to the country at the expense of senators and representatives who blocked him would be an historic one. One-third of the senate and the entire house membership is up for re-election next year.

WANTS TO KNOW WHY

J. Dick Cook today appeared before city council at their meeting in city hall and inquired as to whom sponsored an ordinance which repealed another ordinance which had ordained Sheridan avenue between Wilmington avenue and the Phillips line.

He was informed that the repealer was introduced by the late Councilman Jud Norris and that it was adopted in May, 1924.

Cook said that there are properties along the avenue and council ordered that an investigation be started to find out why the ordinance was repealed.

NO ONE INJURED

Car driven by Adolph Trolli, Cleveland and J. H. Wagner, Lafayette street, this city, were in a collision on the Ellwood City-Warrenton road at 8:30 p. m. Saturday. The collision caused Trolli to lose control of his truck and it struck a car driven by David L. McCullough, Beaver Falls. No one was hurt.

Eckert Praises Lewis In Letter To C.I.O. Leader

Letter Reproduced In Congressional Record At Cost Of $150 To Taxpayers

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 23.—Through an extension of remarks in the congressional record, Representative Charles R. Eckert of Beaver, seems to have definitely lined up shoulder to shoulder with Chairman John L. Lewis of the C. I. O.

Mr. Eckert's extension of remarks includes a long letter he wrote to Mr. Lewis. It covers more than three pages. The cost of printing the congressional record averages $50 a page, so it cost the federal government and public taxpayers a little more than $150 to reproduce Eckert's letter to Lewis and accompanying remarks.

Letter Of July 13

Congressman Eckert wrote Mr. Lewis to praise a radio speech by the C. I. O. leader on July 13. At that time, Lewis was being widely criticized for tactics employed in dealing with employers.

Mr. Eckert in his letter condoled Lewis and clearly showed his sympathy for him. He wrote in part to the C. I. O. leader as follows:

"It seems to be written in the stars that those who are influential in the labor movement are targets for abuse, ridicule, and misrepresentation. There is no doubt too poisonous, no lie too vicious, no punishment too cruel for their traducers."

Eckert added that with the wrong labor leaders all of labor might be led astray. Hence, he continued, "It was with extreme pleasure that I listened" to Mr. Lewis' radio speech outlining C. I. O. aims. He continued in his letter to Lewis:

"Poise and restraint and good common sense characterized your every utterance. It is an indication that at last labor leaders are seeking not only unionization of labor but social reforms that will open the way for the establishment of a social order based on the principles of freedom and justice, of equal rights for all, special privileges for none."

If the Beaver congressman thus made friends of the C. I. O. by so openly eulogizing Chairman Lewis, he at the same time invited the enmity of the more conservative American Federation of Labor officials. Spokesman of the A. F. of L. point out Mr. Eckert made no effort to praise the A. F. of L. in the congressional record but definitely aligned himself with the C. I. O.

Habeas Corpus For Two Minor Children

Herbert A. Weir Wants Possession Of Children Now At Margaret Henry Home

Petition for a writ of habeas corpus, presented by Herbert A. Weir, was heard by Judge James A. Chambers at court this morning. Mr. Weir sets forth that after he was divorced from his wife, Helen Weir, now Helen Robinson, the custody of their two children, was given to her and he was directed by the court to pay $20 per month for the support of the children.

He says that he has been making the payments to his former wife, but that she has put the children in the Margaret Henry Home and is not paying for their support out of the money that he has been providing. Mr. Weir asks for the custody of the children, Donald, aged 14 and Robert, aged 12. Considerable testimony was taken on both sides, after which the court adjourned the case until later when arguments will be heard.

Twenty-Six Are Hurt In Crash

Second-Car Of Five-Car Train Jumps Track In New York City Tube

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Twenty-six persons were injured, ten seriously, and 100 others badly shaken up early today when the second car of a five-car train jumped the tracks at the Cortland street terminal of the Hudson tube and was virtually demolished.

The derailed car was wedged between concrete retaining walls with a force which burst its ceiling and floor. Several passengers fell thru the floor to the roadbed.

Sixteen of the 26 taken to a hospital were allowed to go home after being treated for their injuries.

Eight Injured In Crash Of Bus

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 23.—Eight persons were slightly injured and a dozen others severely shaken up today when a small passenger bus operated by the Ohio Valley Motor Coach company ploughed into the rear end of a truck trailer on Grand avenue on suburban Neville Island, police reported.

The bus operated between Pittsburgh and Aliquippa, Pa.

'Non-Essential' Americans Must Leave Shanghai

Washington Orders All Not Necessary In War Torn City Evacuated

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Horror-struck by the Shanghai holocaust, in which 350 died as two Chinese artillery shells wrecked an 18-story department store, the United States government today made two swift moves to protect its nationals there.

These were:

1. Complete evacuation of "non-essential" Americans from the war-ravaged metropolis will be enforced, it was learned, or those refusing to leave will remain at their own risk.

2. A sharp note of protest over the shelling was addressed to the Central government in the hope it might halt further bombardment of the international settlement.

The latest of warfare's horrors to be wreaked on a great city brought President Roosevelt one step closer to invocation of the neutrality act, a step he has thus far avoided because war has not been officially declared between China and Japan, nor have they formally severed diplomatic relations.

It was stated in authoritative circles, however, that this action, which would declare a "state of war" existing between the two oriental powers and embargo arms and credits to them, might be taken at any moment.

While the formality of a protest over the department store shelling was gone through, it was beginning to be admitted privately in high official circles here that the only hope of saving Americans from the death that strikes without warning from the skies is to get them out of the war zone.

Repeated protests to both Japan and China have failed to halt aerial and artillery bombardment of the international city.

Warn Employers That Penalty Will Mount

Because they already face penalties for failure to make their first and second quarter contributions under the state's new unemployment compensation act, many of Lawrence county's employers today were urged to report payments immediately to the temporary field office of the unemployment division in the Johnson building. The penalties increase as the months pass.

It was said about 300 are behind in payments.

LEGS CUT OFF BOY DIES IN HOSPITAL

SHARON, Aug. 23.—Geo. E. Cannon, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Cannon, West Lincoln street, died in Buhl hospital today from shock and loss of blood, suffered three hours earlier when both his legs were cut off near the hip by an Erie Railroad passenger train.

The train was an excursion to Niagara Falls and the boy was one of a large number of Shenango Valley residents who planned to board it here. The rush for good seats pushed him under one of the coaches before it had come to a stop.

Auto Mishaps Fatal To Seven Over Week-End

Fatal Highway Accidents Scattered Throughout Pennsylvania

(International News Service)

Seven persons lost their lives on Pennsylvania highways and streets over the week-end, a survey by International News Service showed today.

John Hoak, 70, of Tarentum, died in a hospital of a fractured skull received when he was struck by a machine while walking on the road.

John Riak, 30, of Coraopolis, was killed when two automobiles traveling in opposite directions collided on the McKees Rocks-Northside bridge. Three others were injured.

Richard M. Rahn, 28, Hanover, died in a hospital several hours after his automobile skidded on the wet highway at McSherrystown and crashed into a bridge abutment.

Edward C. Dive, 48, Dover, Pa., succumbed to injuries suffered in an automobile collision last Friday in which his left arm was badly mangled.

Mrs. Ethel Stubbs, 38, of Philadelphia, was killed by a hit-run motorist on a highway between Fortescue and Bridgeton, N. J.

Miss Caroline Clements, 58, and Miss Louise M. Brown, both of Pittsburgh, died from the effects of injuries received near Somerset when the right front tire of the car in which they were vacation-bound blew out, the machine crashing a guard rail and upsetting.

The bouts, scheduled to open about 3:30, will be refereed by William Mitto. He is providing the boxers.

Other features will mark the outdoor frolic.

New Stamps Are On Sale Here

Another woman citizen of the United States has now been honored on a postage stamp. With the issuance of the new Virginia Dare stamp which was placed on sale in the local post office just recently, the third famous woman in the U. S. received honors on a stamp.

First honored was Martha Washington. Last year, Susan B. Anthony was depicted on a stamp. Now another stamp is issued honoring Virginia Dare.

These new stamps are interesting due to their odd size and shape. The new stamps are one inch square. Instead of 50 stamps to a sheet as in the regular issues, there are 48 in the Virginia Dare series. The stamp is of the five cent denomination.

DEATH OF FATHER

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 23.—William Wheeler and Kathryn Wheeler Schmidt, Sharpville, have brought suit to recover $10,000 damages from Thomas J. SLEEPING SICKNESS VICTIM AT SHARON SHARON, Aug. 23.—Sam Sernelli, 54, Wilkes place, died in Buhl hospital last night from sleeping sickness. The first victim of the disease in the district in several months.

Until he was picked up Monday night by police, who mistook his condition for drunkenness, Sernelli did not know the nature of his illness.

YOUR CHILD'S EYES

Upon a child's eyesight largely depends the development of her mentality, personality, character.

Children who cannot see clearly do not learn readily. They fall behind in their schoolwork—not because their brain is less capable than their schoolmates', but because their poor vision holds them back. Even though they work as hard as the others, they learn less. Be sure that your child is not being handicapped by poor vision. Have her eyes examined this week, before school begins. Clear, keen vision will make her happier, healthier and more successful—now, and in the future.

MISSING POLITICAL BOSS FOUND IN NEW YORK

Law Catches Up With J. J. Bruno After Long Hunt

Under Three Sentences Of Life Imprisonment For Kelayres, Pa., Murders

ESCAPED OFFICERS BY CLEVER RUSE

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Arrested here after he had been sought for eight months in connection with a "political massacre" at Kelayres, Pa., in 1934, Joseph J. Bruno, former political boss, was to be placed in the police line-up today and then taken under heavy guard to the Eastern penitentiary at Philadelphia.

In Rooming House
After a nation-wide search, the former Republican leader was found in a rooming house here where he had lived since last February. In an effort to escape detection, he had dyed his graying hair jet black and had grown a mustache, which he also dyed black.

Under three life sentences for his part in the election eve parade massacre at Kelayres, Bruno escaped from a guard last Dec. 18 at a Pottsville, Pa., dental office by a ruse after complaining he had a toothache. The arrest of several jail officials on charges of aiding him followed.

He had not been heard of since. Police said he was reputed to have taken $35,000 with him, but none of the money was found when he was confronted in his room by Louis D. Buono, chief of Schuylkill county (Pa.) detectives and New York sleuths.

Edward Friedman, first deputy attorney general of Pennsylvania, and Lynn G. Adams, deputy commissioner of the Pennsylvania Motor police also were here to question Bruno.

Admits Identity
Bruno, who is 54, soon admitted his identity. It was understood that his letters to friends in Pennsylvania gave police a clue to his whereabouts.

He had been using the alias of Frank Miller, police said.
For many years Bruno's family had dominated the politics of the little mining town of Kelayres without opposition until 1934 when a Democratic sweep was threatened. After a Democratic rally on election eve, many of the crowd marched to Bruno's home and shouted taunts.

Then a volley of shots was heard and several marchers in the parade fell, five dead and a score of others wounded.

Bruno and six relatives were convicted and sentenced to prison terms ranging from ten years to life. A seventh was convicted but filed an appeal. Bruno's convictions at three trials were sustained by the state supreme court and he was awaiting transfer to Eastern penitentiary when he escaped.

Three Slightly Injured In Crash

Cars Collided Three Miles From New Bedford Late Saturday Night

Three persons were slightly injured at 11:25 p. m. Saturday, when the cars driven by Robert Reese, aged 16, of East Falls street, and Fred Peebles of Lovellville road, Struthers, O., collided head-on, three miles this side of New Bedford, on Route 422.

Miss Lois Brenneman of Huron avenue, this city, was admitted to the Jameson Memorial hospital for treatment of bruises and lacerations. She was able to return to her home Sunday.

Reese and Peebles were treated and discharged from the hospital Saturday night.

Ray W. Humphrey A Candidate For County Judgeship

RAYMOND W. HUMPHREY

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF LAWRENCE COUNTY.
I am a candidate for the office of Judge of the several Courts of Lawrence County at the Primary Election to be held on the 14th day of September.

I am the only registered Democrat candidate for that office in this primary on the Democratic ticket. I should show his allegiance to the party in which he is registered.

I am a member of the bar of Lawrence County, and the several Appellate Courts of this state. I am also a member of the Federal Courts for this district. I have had active court practice in all branches, and feel I am well qualified as an attorney to well and honestly administer the duties of the office of Judge. I know I have a knowledge of the people of Lawrence County only gained by a close association with the people in the steel mills, the miners, merchants and industries of all kinds.

Having formerly worked in the steel mills and mines, I know the desires and hopes of the working people, as well as their problems, and have a full and real understanding of the younger generation only gained by association with them.

I have been a resident of Lawrence County all my life, have had its interest at heart. I believe in the natural and social justice of "one for all" and "all for one," and have actively given my time and efforts for the advancement of the social and civic matters concerning the people and for the general betterment of all.

I recognize the importance of the duties of the office of Judge, and know that I am capable of filling the office with dignity, fairness and sympathetic common sense, which after all, is the true basis for social happiness among our citizens.

My name as a candidate will appear on the Democratic ballot in the second position under the heading of "Judge" and I earnestly solicit the support of all Democrats at the Primary Election.

RAYMOND W. HUMPHREY.

News Briefs From City Hall

City of New Castle has purchased new traffic lights. Places where they will be hung will be made known soon by Mayor Charles E. McGrath.

Parking meters benefitted the traffic movement Saturday night. It was possible at all times to find a place to park an auto.

Police Lieutenant Cecil Suber is acting as chief of police this week.

Someone placed three joints of stove-pipe and a tan leather coat in the auto of Budd Emery which stood in South Ray street last night, he told police.

An auto which was parked for four days on Lawrence street was ordered towed to a garage, according to police.

Officer Tewell is off duty owing to illness.

Boys threw tomatoes last night in East Washington street near Butler avenue.

Ford Sedan, Pennsylvania license 188JO, owned by Chester McDonald, R. D. 7, was stolen from South Croton avenue last night, police were informed.

Auto of Clarence Weir, stolen from Mercer street, was found by Officers Nelson and Hillers in South street last night.

Good Roads Rally Of 1908 Heralded Early War On Mud

GOOD ROADS RALLY:—

The earliest movement for good roads in Lawrence county developed out of a public rally at the court house here back on February 5, 1908—and the New Castle Motor Club, now marking its 30th year, can justly accept credit for it.

It was David Jamison, in the capacity of president of the club, who had called it.
Many residents responded to the call and took part in the preparation and execution of plans for the betterment of city streets and roads for motor travel.

First Auto Parade Told
In April of 1908 came the first automobile parade in New Castle's history.

Club officials recalled it this way: "On April 29th, 1908, the membership of the motor club accepted an invitation from the New Castle baseball committee, to appear in parade with the baseball players of the Interstate league, this being the opening ball game of the season. The members turned out in numbers and this constituted the first automobile parade in New Castle."

For membership privileges in the motor club in those days a person paid $2 per year—and contributed a day's actual road work.

Coal Mine "Worked Out" And Closed Near Leesburg

Mine No. 5 of the Sharon Coal and Limestone Company in the Leesburg district, shut down Saturday, the coal having been "worked out."

Normally the mine employed about 400 men, but for several months men have been seeking employment elsewhere and last week a large number moved out.

This does not affect the No. 2 mine of the company which a few years ago purchased the Pennsylvania mine and secured a large acreage of leases, which assures the life of that mine for several years.

The mine was originally opened by the late Frank P. Filer of Mercer, who afterwards sold it to the U. S. Steel Corp., and continued as superintendent until retired on a pension.

Gentlemen:

Subject: Antlerless Deer Season

In a recent issue of the press, through the International News Service, the executive director of Pennsylvania's state game commission, Mr. Seth Gordon, stated that no complaints have been received about killing antlerless deer in the state.

This country has been on record many times during the past five years—at the game commission office and in the press—opposing the antlerless deer season.

This system of reducing deer is not destroying the type of deer that the game commission says they want out of the woods, but it is destroying the young male deer that are not old enough to have horns and the young female deer that the commission does not want destroyed.

Until such time as a system is put into effect that will only destroy the old female deer in the sections where feed is not plentiful, we cannot support the attitude of the game commission. It is my opinion that the game commission has sufficient salaried employees to control this condition with the assistance of the sportsmen to save our young male and female deer for the sportsmen.

Some sportsmen are of the opinion that since the game commission was not successful in having the hunting license fee increased, they are using this method of obtaining the money they desire.

At the northwest division meeting in Mercer last winter, opposition was expressed very forcefully to the open season on antlerless deer.

Game Commissioner Lamberton was present, as were several of the game commission representatives. The northwest division is comprised

Farrell Ex-Coach Sues School Board

Judge Rowley Gets Second Case For Decision Under Recent State Act

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 23.—A second contest between teacher and school board under the Teacher Tenure Act was handed to Judge George H. Rowley for adjudication on Thursday immediately following his filing of an opinion sustaining the Lake township school board in its refusal to continue employment of Miss Florence Berrisford of Stoneboro as teacher of McCormick school.

An appeal was filed by William Ganapoki, teacher of history and civics, instructor in physical education, coach of basketball and assistant coach of football in Farrell high school since 1922, from the action of the Farrell board of education in dismissing him.

Judge Rowley set Tuesday, August 31, at 9 o'clock for the hearing and ordered the Farrell board to file a complete written transcript of the record of all proceedings thus far in the case, including the testimony of witnesses, a copy of the notice of termination of contract and other records as requested by the petitioner.

Ganapoki stated in his petition that he was notified by mail on March 11 that he would not be employed after the termination of his contract at the close of school on June 4.

Cubs Back In Winning Form

Cubs Upset Reds Twice To Stay In Front By Four Full Games

CARDS WIN TWO FROM PIRATES

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—The Cub machine which recently took a wide detour off Pennant Boulevard is back on the main highway today clicking on all cylinders and headed for Pennantville.

Not long ago Cub pitchers were tossing sand in the machine by giving up as many as 54 runs in five games or an average of almost eleven a game. Now the boys have reformed and anybody who stops the Cub machine will have a job on hand. The Cubs are four games in front of the staggering Giants and if they fall now, with only 41 games left to play, Charley Grimm should take them out and shoot them.

They came through with a double victory over the Reds yesterday, 4-1 and 5-2. Old Charley Root held the Reds to six hits in the opener and they scored four runs in the ninth to take the nightcap.

Cards Win Two

The Cards moved back into third place at the expense of the Pirates whom they took over 12-0 and 9-7. It was a grand day for veterans. Lefty Bob Weiland who has been around for years held the Bucs to three hits in the opener and belted a three-run homer in his own cause. Dizzy Dean also hit for the circuit in winning the second game. The Dodgers moved out of the cellar when Luke Hamlin held the Bucs to four hits and won 5-1 in a game called at the end of the fifth by rain. The Giants were lucky in having rain stop their game with the Phils at the end of the second as the Phils had hit two homers for a two-run lead on Smith in the first inning.

Rain also spoiled some sport in the American League. The Red Sox-Senators doubleheader was called off and the Yankees ceased firing at the end of the fifth in the first game of a scheduled fair. They beat the A's 4-1. Joe DiMaggio walloped his 36th homer.

The Tigers took a pair from the Browns, 11-3, and 4-3 the last in ten heats.

The Indians and White Sox split a pair, the Sox taking the first 5-2 and dropping the second, 3-2.

Game Cancelled

The scheduled Bessemer and East Side Merchants county league game for tonight at Bessemer field has been cancelled. The field is too wet for play.

Incidentally Bessemer would like to play any of the city league teams on Labor Day, and games can be arranged by calling Jim Martin at 8058.

Greg Ross Allows Visitors But Two Hits; Locals Win, 2-0

Greg Ross, a sterling softball pitcher, came up with a two hit job against the Johnstown Silver Tops, Sunday, at Lehigh Field. As a result, the National Radiators captured their 46th consecutive victory by the shut out system, 2-0.

Ross baffled the visitors all afternoon with his benders. He whiffed 12 batsmen. Scarpo, on the mound for the losers, pitched fairly well, permitting 5 hits. N. Ross, Fornaturo and Ambrosi had extra base hits for the Rads.

Manager Ambrosia announced that tonight's game between the Rads and Nobilis has been postponed due to wet grounds. The game will be played on Wednesday evening at 5:45 o'clock. All players are asked to take notice.

Louis Favored To Beat Farr

Sport Writers In U. S. And Also Great Britain Refuse To Give Tommy Chance

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Schmeling says the man can't fight. Baer says he can't, and almost had to block one with his visage yesterday that the blighted can't fight. None of them are picking their champion, Tommy Farr, to have better than an extreme outside chance against Joe Louis for the world's heavyweight championship on Thursday night.

But Tommy Farr either thinks he has a great chance—or he's the proverbial small boy whistling as he passes the grave yard. His attitude, either way, couldn't have been better illustrated than his attempt yesterday to do violence to Baer in the ring at Long Branch.

What with this incident, supplemented by Farr's acrid relations with the English journalists here and his bickering with the camp staff, the impression seems to be that the blighted can't wait until he gets Louis. He wants to lick everybody else in the meantime. Certainly, no fighter of prominence, since that halcyon day when Gene Tunney first realized he had hit the headlines, has been quite so capable of creating acrimony on and from all sides.

In fact, there's now a certain amount of reasonable doubt as to whether Farr is actually trying to fool himself—or everybody else. Has he actually got something we don't know about or just a lot of Welsh blarney?

What he actually seems to have so far is a hunched left shoulder wip in front of his jaw and a couple of cauliflower eyebrows. He apparently hasn't got the punch to make a fedora out of a derby hat. He doesn't seem to be fast and he carries his left hand so low that most of the experts are agreed that he couldn't get it up in time to block a lead from the average chorus man.

Expect Big Crowd
But frankly a doubt he behaves a great brawl, at least in interviews, and frankly all of us are beginning to wonder whether this party from the mines of Tonypandy knows something that we don't notice, for instance, that when he began to blather at Baer in the ring yesterday, the gift to American womanhood backed away in some alarm and finally made as though to climb through the ropes.

Also that Baer was apologetic, both during and after the incident. Frankly again and finally, the man has some of us guessing just a little and that's one reason the first ten rows are sold for Thursday night at $23 a ticket, with the gross figuring around $200,000 for what ordinarily would seem to be a two dollar prize fight.

Nobilis-RADS GAME OFF
Manager Dundo Ambrosia today stated that the Nobilis-Rads game carded, for this evening has been postponed due to wet grounds. The game will be played on Wednesday evening at 5:45 o'clock, he stated.

FOOTBALL BOYS MEET TUESDAY

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh clambored down off the California Express and his first words were "The New Castle high school football candidates will have a meeting at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening at the stadium."

It behooves each and every boy who intends to try out for the "Red Hurricane" eleven this year to be at the meeting tomorrow night and on time. Practice sessions at the stadium will start Wednesday and continue through until Saturday. The team will go to camp the following Monday.

Select Camp Material.
The boys who show the proper stuff in the stadium workouts will get a chance to make the Muddy Creek Falls training camp trip. There is a lot of hard work to be done this year. Bridenbaugh will not stand for any monkey-business from the grid hopefuls.

Bridenbaugh was out in the Catalina Islands for a week or two along with other famous football coaches. A clinic was conducted with such well known college coaches as Howard Jones, Jimmy Phelan and others doing the instructing. The main thing is—if you intend to play football for New Castle high this fall, don't fail to be present at the meeting Tuesday night. Equipment will be issued Tuesday and everything set to start tough workouts on Wednesday.

Breezy Sport Notes Around Pennsylvania

By DICK SHANER
International News Service Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 23.—Short and sweet: There'll be many a football coach who'll wipe a perspiring brow and breathe easier after the coming campaign gets underway. This past summer has in reality been an "open season on coaches" and there were many who wondered whether they were still going to have a job in the fall. The changes started early in the summer and some of the gaps still remain unfilled, yet the season opens in a few short weeks. Some of the smaller schools will probably engage in a last minute scramble to get the best of what's left in the field. With the football season comes portly Edmund Wicht, veteran secretary of the P. I. A. A., who usually pops up in the news late in the summer and lasts through football and basketball seasons before fading out again. 59 guide the destinies of the school athletes. Wicht appeared this year with a bang and made his presence felt, leaving the old impression that he was the boss and intended to remain so. It seems that some Altoona football officials announced plans for a football clinic to explain the new federation rules, selecting September 4 to 11 as the date. But along came Mr. Wicht who selected August 31 as the date, choosing to hold the clinic on a Tuesday instead of the proposed Saturday dates, making it inconvenient for the majority of the visiting coaches.

Pittsburgh sports scribes will have their hands full when Pitt, Tech and Duquesne begin their fall training grind. By some curious coincidence, the three schools selected the same date for their openings. Pitt and Duquesne both open the first week-end in September but both have soft teams for the opener. But the Skiboos. Tech has a real suicide schedule, opening with NYU, then meeting in quick succession Purdue, Notre Dame, Temple and Pitt.

Penn State is another outfit which booked up a tough one to cut its teeth on. The State lads meet Cornell in the curtain raiser. Incidentally, State recently acquired a new athletic trainer, signing up Jack Hulme, who had been associated with Westminster college since 1925.

A quick squint into the fight picture shows two possible top-rank matches which might land in Pennsylvania within the next two months. In the eastern end of the state, Philadelphia is in line for a heavyweight championship fight, if Joe Louis and Max Schmeling can come to terms after the Detroit powerhouse disposes of Tommy Farr on Thursday. If, according to the present whisperings behind the scenes, everything goes through, Louis will take on Herr Max in the municipal stadium in Philly in October. In the western end of the state, promoters are trying to arrange for a re-match of Billy Conn, state middleweight titlist, and Young Corbett, who snapped the Pittsburgher's win streak at 36 out on the west coast recently. The bout is slated for Forbes field for September 16 and will be a humdinger as Conn attempts to vindicate himself before the home-town boys.

Indies Defeat Colored Elks

City League Game At
Rosena Field Goes 11 Innings, Score Is 5 To 4

The Lawrence Indies handed the Colored Elks a 5 to 4 setback at Rosena Field Sunday in a City League game that went 11 innings. The game was featured by a terrific home run smash by A. Baker.

Joe Wilk and James "Hubbell" Balla did the pitching for the Indies and gave up six hits. The winners had nine hits off of "Smookey Joe" Campbell.

Extra heavy slugger was done by Preston, Crafton, Harvey, Rowland, M. Baker and Balla, besides the home run clouted by A. Baker. The Indies shoved over the winning tally in the first of the eleventh on bunched hits.

The game was one of the best of the year at the Rosena ball orchard. The box score:

West Side All Stars Will Play Unions Tonight

First Game Of Series Tonight At Lee Avenue Field

The West Side All-Stars will play the Union All-Stars at Lee avenue field tonight (weather permitting). The game will start at 5:30 o'clock. It was announced by Manager Leonard Gilbert of the West Side team today.

The West Side All-Stars will have such well known players as "Boo" Fallor and Davies of the Firemen in the lineup along with Paul Morrison of the Ryantown team. The Unions will have such well known stars as Chilly, Johnny Marshall and Mooney Severa of the Firemen team in the lineup.

The game promises to be one of the best of the year at the Lee avenue field. There is a lot of natural rivalry in this game. This is the first game of a three-game series.

Mahoning-Pulaski's To Play Tonight

The Mahoning A. A. and K. Pulaski teams of the City Baseball league will play tonight at Glasser field at 5:45 o'clock. The game was called off Sunday on account of wet grounds.

Either Rainey or Russo will take the mound for the Mahonings. Walter "Shennie" Soho will more than likely be the selection of Manager "Lefty" Mashek.

The league leading Oaklanders hope to upset the seventh warders tonight.

Hero And Goat

(International News Service)
Hero—Lefty Gomez, Yankees: Struck out ten men 16 in six innings as Yanks beat A's 4 to 1 in game curtailed by rain.

Goat—Al Hollingsworth, Reds: Went in as relief pitcher against Cubs in 9th inning of second game and promptly lost it by walking three men and allowing a single.

"You know as much about it as I do, but I wouldn't be surprised if they were married."

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Southern California tennis team made a clean sweep of four championships in the meet conducted at Pittsburgh, the winners being as follows: men's singles, Lewis Wetherell of Santa Ana. Women's singles, Mary Arnold of Los Angeles. Men's doubles, Willis Anderson and Ronald Lubin of Los Angeles and women's doubles, Mary Arnold and Gertrude Dockstader of Los Angeles.

Drivers are jogging their horses at the Fair track, preparatory to the meet which begins Wednesday. More horses than ever in the history of the track have been entered and all the barns will be filled with trotters and pacers. Handicap racing will be staged. Word has gone out that as much scoring as possible is to be eliminated in the other event. Harry Goli will give the horses the word.

Scorching the fairways with closings rounds of 68 and 72, Vic Ghezzi of Deal, N. H., yesterday won Lake Placid annual golf open with a 72 hole aggregate of 277, 11 under par.

Tommy Farr, whose near-fight with Max Baer caused an uproar at the Welsh heavyweight's training camp here yesterday, still was as sore as a pup today while Baer was apologizing all over the place.

The incident began when Farr was finishing his daily training stunt for his bout with Joe Louis Thursday night. Baer, quoted as saying in a recent interview that Farr "couldn't kill a fly" entered the ring and greeted the Welshman.

Starts To Punch
"Blarney!" Farr was heard to say, desponding Baer's outstretched hand. "What d'ye mean by saying in the papers that I only beat ye in London because I butted ye in the first round? I can beat ye any time—right now or tomorrow—and I'll use my two hands, not my head."

"Don't believe everything, little boy," rejoined the ever-laughing Max.

At this sally Farr pushed Baer in the stomach and started to punch when Tommy manager and others in the ring forced him back into his corner.

Later Baer declared apologetically that he never said Farr used unfair tactics against him in London, while Tommy glovered that he "cut Baer to ribbons in London and could do it again."

Farr looked better in his workout yesterday. He will do his final boxing tomorrow.

Fannins of the Junior Softball League have changed their field. From now on they will play at Gaston Park instead of Rose avenue.

Firemen Trim Ryantown 3-1

"Peck" Huston Outpitches Rodenbaugh To Gain Victory

The Sixth Ward Firemen upset Ryantown yesterday at the Ryantown Field 3 to 1 in a City league battle. "Peck" Huston on the hill for the Firemen and "Fiz" Rodenbaugh had a pitchers battle all the way. Huston was the winner of the hurling engagement.

Ryantown had but four hits off the veteran Huston, while the Firemen had only five hits off of Rodenbaugh. Both pitchers were bearing down, with Huston being especially good in the pinches.

The Firemen gained their victory in the third inning with a two-run attack and put the game on ice in the eighth with another run. Neyman had the only extra-base sock of the game, a double.

Jimmy Steiner handled the balls and strikes end of the game like a veteran. His work and that of Mr. Bodendorfer was highly appreciated by the teams and the fans.

Quite a nice sized crowd witnessed the game, and cheered as the natural rivals of the West Side tangled. The box score:

Community Picnic Postponed Owing To Terrific Rain

Picnic To Be Held Tonight And Tuesday Night Beginning At 5 O'clock

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 23.—That Jupiter Pluvius is no respecter of persons or plans was very well demonstrated on Saturday when Ellwood City's community picnic was postponed owing to torrential rains and they were regular downpours not gentle showers.

The picnic will be held tonight and Tuesday night beginning at 5 o'clock with bigger and better attractions for the public than the one dampened out by the rain on Saturday.

Promptly at 5:30 the Sports committee will finish the sporting events left over from Saturday. Events to be run yet are: Boys 10 to 16 years, 100 yard dash; 3 legged race; human wheelbarrow; ladies 17 and over, egg throwing contest; 100 yard dash; indoor baseball throw; men 17 and over, 100 yard dash; baseball throw; shotput and the child calling contest open to all ladies. The Sports committee has some very valuable prizes to offer as awards in the remaining sports events.

The following grand prizes will be given away at the Community picnic tonight starting at 6 p. m. 6 p. m.—$10.00 child's tricycle—City Paint & Glass Co. 6:30 p. m.—$40.00 cabinet sink—Gardner Brothers. 7:00 p. m.—$49.50 R. C. A. auto radio—Runyan Service stations. 7:30 p. m.—$37.50 boys' bicycle—Cartwright Hardware Co. 8:00 p. m.—$32.50 girls bicycle—Yahn-Johnes Hardware. 8:30 p. m.—$69.50 radio—Herge Radio & Electric store. 9:00 p. m.—$100.00 mangle—J. I. Porter Furniture. 10:00 p. m.—$150.00 living room suite—Ellwood City Furniture Co.

The entertainment stand on the midway will offer an abundance of real free entertainment. The schedule for this evening is as follows: Welsh Brothers Tar Hill band—6:30 to 7 p. m. Aerial Barrows—trapeze performers—7:00 to 7:15 p. m. Pine Ridge Serenaders—7:30 to 8:00 p. m. High school band—8:00 to 8:30 p. m. "Bill" Grant—contortionist—8:30 to 8:45 p. m. Jim and his Pennsylvanians—8:45 to 9:00 p. m. Waller & Durbin—acrobatic performers—9:00 to 9:30 p. m. Aerial Barrows—fancy trapeze act—9:30 to 10:00 p. m.

The entire group of concession stands will be in the midway line tonight going full blast in the well lighted park. The gorgeous fireworks display will end the picnic on Tuesday night. Burgess Siller and his corp of local and state highway police will again handle traffic and parking situation as they did on Saturday.

Persons who deposited stubs in the grand prize boxes on Saturday are urged to keep their duplicate numbers as the numbers that were deposited will be used along with more numbers that will be passed out on Monday and Tuesday nights at the Ewing Park bridge and Pershing street entrance.

The grand prize stubs should be deposited in front of the entertainment stand. Drawings will be made every half hour.

FIREMEN'S AUXILIARY

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 23.—The Ladies auxiliary of the Ellwood City fire department will hold their regular meeting tonight in the firemen's hall on Sixth street.

Little Bits Of This And That About Ellwood

After the extreme heat of last week, the cool weather of Sunday following the rain was welcomed. Many people were noted wearing coats and jackets.

Quite a number of the stores didn't re-open on Saturday evening after the picnic was postponed, even though the streets were crowded with shoppers.

Although it rained continuously Saturday afternoon and evening, Ewing Park was thronged by the curious all day. For a while, it looked as though "Old Sol" would win the day and the picnic started, resulting with the estimated 2000 persons, who had gathered for the event, being completely soaked before reaching their cars and the shelter house.

During the electric storm, the electric was off in the villages surrounding Ellwood City. As a result the electric gas pumps couldn't operate and many motorists desiring gasoline had to call Ellwood stations for service.

Lawrence avenue between Sixth and Seventh streets has been attractively enhanced by the erection of a number of modern store fronts.

Obviously unaware of the hazardous driving condition he was creating, an intoxicated man, Saturday evening, decided to direct traffic on Lawrence avenue and Fourth street.

One of the most dastardly and deliberately cruel acts we've heard of for many a day, concerned the Frisco boys who blinded a number of valuable cattle belonging to a Franklin township farmer, by shooting the eyes of the cows with a BB gun.

Birthday Dinner Planned By Class

North Sewickley Class To Hold Dinner For Congregation On Wednesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 23.—When members of the Ever-Ready and Brotherhood Bible classes of the North Sewickley Presbyterian church assembled in the church rooms on Friday evening for a combined meeting, Mrs. Charles Gerwig of Zelienople, was a special guest.

Arthur Forbush conducted the opening devotional period after which the classes held separate business meetings. Plans were completed for a birthday dinner to be held on Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock at the church for members and friends of the congregation.

An hour of fun and fellowship followed with the twenty-five attending being served cooling refreshments by Mrs. J. R. Clarke, Mrs. Oliver Aiken, Mrs. Thomas Baird, and Mrs. Charles Blinn.

Friday evening, September 17, is the date of the next regular meeting.

POSTPONE CORN ROAST

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 23.—Members of the P. H. C. have postponed their corn roast scheduled for this evening on account of the community picnic today and Tuesday.

The anniversary committee will meet on Wednesday evening, at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. Ida Duncan, of Spring avenue, to complete their plans.

Ganna Walska to Wed

Mme. Ganna Walska, opera singer and former wife of Harold Fowler McCormick, of Chicago, is to wed Grindell Matthews, British inventor, according to reports in London newspapers.

Cars Damaged In Minor Collisions

Helen Vinci, Of Pittsburgh Circle, Slightly Injured When Struck By Car

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 23.—A car driven by Louis Toth, of Blairsville, Pa., was damaged to the extent of $200 on Saturday afternoon when the driver attempted to pass a truck driven by John Zajac, of New Castle, on the Ellwood-Wampum road. The damage was caused by the car striking a culvert.

Helen Vinci, of Pittsburgh Circle, was slightly injured on Saturday evening when she was knocked down by a car driven by Boris Stavrevich, of 432 Wampum avenue. The accident occurred in the alley between Glen avenue and Fountain avenue when the driver was backing into the street. Mr. Stavrevich, who said he did not see Miss Vinci, stopped immediately and took her to the hospital, where she was given treatment for bruises and cuts.

Cars driven by Alex Yonkee, of Beaver Falls and Isabel Shuler, of Coraopolis, collided at the intersection of Fourth street and Crescent avenue, damaging the fender and running board of the Yonkee car.

HOSPITAL NOTES

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 23.—Admitted: Georgia Skewis, Sixth street, and Mary D. Kirker, Harmony, Pa.

Discharged: William Cooper, Route 1, Prospect; Mrs. John Depp and baby, Sixth street; Joyce Gillespie, First avenue; and Doris Stuck, Harmony.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Dietrick, of Smiley street, a son, Saturday evening.

Steel Unions To Hold Picnic

Union Picnic To Take Place On Saturday At Ellport Grove

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 23.—Pazsin's Grove, at Ellport, has been chosen as the setting for the first annual picnic of the members of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee unions of Ellwood City, which will be held there on Saturday afternoon and evening, August 28.

This is a cool shady, grove and situated along the banks of the Connoquenessing creek will afford swimming and fishing as added diversions.

Plans for the day's activities are being made by a large committee which includes representatives from every steel workers' union in the city. Included in the program will be sport events for all ages groups, boxing exhibitions, ball games, horse shoe pitching and dancing in the evening. Winners of the sports events will be awarded valuable prizes.

A number of prominent speakers will give addresses in the afternoon. An invitation has been extended to the general public to share the day's events.

Wayne Twp. Schools To Open September 7

Schedule Announced For Transporting Pupils To New School

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 23.—Directors of the Wayne township school board have reached a financial agreement with the school bus drivers and have awarded the contracts for transporting the school pupils to Norman Lelsey, of Brown's Addition, and Philip Cole, of Wayne township.

Tuesday, September 8, is scheduled as the opening date of all the township schools. The new Consolidated school is completed and is ready for occupancy.

The following schedule has been arranged for picking up the children: Burnstown pupils will assemble at the Ewing Park end of the toll bridge; Locust Ridge pupils at the home of J. E. Guy; Mt. Hope pupils at the old school and McMunn Corners; and Quarry pupils at Leroy's Corner and Smiley Stop. Pupils residing on the Ellwood-New Castle road are within walking distance of the school. A path will be constructed from the school to the Route 88, eliminating the necessity of the children walking on the highway.

On Saturday evening, August 28, at 7:30 o'clock, the directors will meet with the teachers of the new school to complete the opening arrangements and to plan the year's activities.

Workley Funeral Held On Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 23.—Funeral services for Frederick John Workley, whose death occurred at his home in Lancaster township following a lingering illness on Thursday morning, were held on Saturday at 3 o'clock from the Camp Run United Presbyterian church.

The services, which were very largely attended, were conducted by Rev. K. W. McFarland, of New Wilmington, a former pastor of the church, and Rev. L. F. Patterson, present pastor.

Many beautiful floral tributes bore testimony to the esteem of which he was held. During the services, three appropriate selections were sung.

Burial was made in the church cemetery.

FIRST CHRISTIAN

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 23.—Activities for the week include: Tuesday evening, members of the Progressive class will meet at the home of Mrs. Max Nye, of Pleasant Hill, at 8 o'clock.

Thursday evening, 8 o'clock, members of the Women's Missionary society will meet at the home of Mrs. Bertha Hupp of Wampum avenue.

The same evening cars will leave the church at 7:30 for the annual round the world trip sponsored by the Bethany class.

Friday evening, the young people of the church will join the Young People's council in a Gypsy hike, leaving the First Presbyterian church at 6:30 o'clock.

Mecklem Families At Huber's Beach

Twenty-Third Annual Reunion • Pleasant Event Of Saturday With 100 Attending

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 23.—The twenty-third annual reunion of Samuel and Rachael McDonald Mecklem took place on Saturday, August 21, at Huber's Beach, near North Sewickley, with approximately 100 members of the families attending from Knoxville, Columbiana, O., Stoneboro, Portlan, Ore., all the Beaver Valley towns and Ellwood City.

The torrential downpours of the day failed to dampen the spirit of the clan and the day was enjoyed immensely with picnic meals of tasty summer delicacies, served at noon and the evening meal hour, being highlights of the day.

An extensive and interesting family tree had been prepared by Millard M. Mecklem, of Beaver, and copies were distributed to all the members. The known history of the present clan dates back to 1800 when Samuel Mecklem married Rachael McDonald, both of Scottish descent, and came to Western Pennsylvania. They settled in Beaver county, in which is now known as Franklin township and to this union were born twelve children, their descendants composing the present relationship.

Mrs. Herman Smith was again elected president of the organization and Miss Helen Householder, secretary and treasurer. Mrs. Ralph Frederick, Mrs. Glen Gallaher and Mrs. W. S. Cowan, will have charge of the games for next year. Interesting letters to the reunion from Mrs. Emma Mecklem, of New Madrid, Mo.; Mrs. Sarah Rodgers, of Twin Falls, Idaho, and Charles Mecklem, of Seattle, Wash., were read. James Smith, of Portland, Ore., motored here to attend the reunion.

Arthur Smith directed an attention-holding sports program with nice prizes going to all the winners. A gift for the oldest man was presented to William Mecklem, of Monaca; to the oldest woman, Mrs. Bessie Reed, of Knoxville; and to the youngest child, John Robert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Gallaher, of Ellwood.

In 1938, the reunion will be held at Huber's Beach, on the second Saturday of August.

Miss Clara Pflugh Entertains Group

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 23.—Miss Clara Pflugh was a charming hostess on Friday evening when she entertained members of the Sunshine and Young Men's classes of the North Sewickley Presbyterian church at her home near Concord, Pa. Thirty members and guests assembled at her home and the hours were kept merry with a variety of outdoor games holding their attention. Steve Takacs had charge of a well-arranged program of events. At an appropriate hour, the group assembled about a glowing bonfire where they partook of a savory winner and marshmallow roast, concluding the party.

Mrs. C. Pflugh Has Dinner Party

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 23.—A delightful event of Sunday took place at the home of Mrs. Caroline Pflugh of near Concord, when she entertained at a dinner in honor of her grandchildren.

Covers were arranged for ten at a table centered with a clever arrangement of garden flowers. The hostess was assisted in serving a delectable dinner by Miss Ella Pflugh and Mrs. Iola Anderson.

Fire Destroys McElwain Garage

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 23.—A garage owned by Andrew McElwain of the Ellwood-New Castle road, was destroyed by fire this morning at 10 o'clock.

There being no facilities for combating fire in that district, nothing could be done to save the structure. The garage being situated near the house, it was feared for a time that both buildings would burn.

The origin of the blaze was not determined. The damage was estimated to be about $150.

U. P. CHURCH ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 23.—Friday evening, members of the Berean Bible class, and members of the Kings Daughters class will have a combined meeting in the form of a corn roast at Ewing Park beginning at 6 o'clock.

ELLWOOD PERSONALS Mrs. Roy P. Meehan and children, Sally and Dean, of Wayne township, spent a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Weisz, of Cleveland, O.

Miss Mildred Rhea and Mrs. Rhea of Second street, Lorraine Ketter and Mrs. Charles Ketter, of Wurttemberg, spent the week-end at Niagara Falls and points in Canada.

Rev. and Mrs. J. D. McDanel, of Brant Lake, N. Y., are guests of the former's mother, Mrs. Artie McDanel, of Sixth street. They are also visiting with other relatives in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hardie, of North Sewickley, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Pfeffer, of Knox, attended the Great Lakes exposition at Cleveland on Sunday.

Miss Myrtle Kingston, of Todd avenue, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kingston, of Poland, O.

Mrs. Campbell Allen, of Weirton, W. Va., is a guest at the home of her mother, Mrs. Delilah Kingston, of Knox.

Teacher In Bible Ends Classes Here

Rev. Marmion Lowe Completes Successful Engagement At Calvary Pavilion

Rev. Marmion L. Lowe, an outstanding Bible teacher in Old and New Testament interpretation at the John A. Davis Memorial Bible Institute, New York state, on Sunday concluded a two-weeks evangelistic engagement at the Calvary Tabernacle, East New Castle.

Three remarkable services conducted during the day were attended by large crowds of local and out-of-town people. Since the beginning of Mr. Lowe's series at the summer pavilion, many Christian workers responded to his masterful studies in Romans and Daniel like students in a seminary or Bible Institute, desiring to acquire a better practical knowledge of these famous books of the Bible.

It has been decided that in the event of a third annual conference and evangelistic crusade at this pavilion, Mr. Lowe will be asked to be one of the principal speakers.

Rev. and Mrs. Harold Barer, recent graduates of the John A. Davis school, now on their way to the mission field in Tennessee, were guests over the week-end of Rev. and Mrs. R. J. Fredericks and sang a number of selections during the Sunday services.

Tuesday evening Evangelist Bob Ingersoll of Saginaw, Mich., will open a two-weeks campaign at the tabernacle and large crowds are anticipated. Services will be conducted nightly except Saturday, at 7:30, and three times on Sunday.

Max Schmeling Is Not Impressed By Workout Of Champ

(International News Service) POMPTON LAKES, N. J., Aug. 23.—"I can lick him again."

Thus spoke Max Schmeling, the man who handed Joe Louis his most crushing defeat, after watching the heavyweight champion work out at his training camp here for his title bout with Tommy Farr in New York Thursday night.

While Max declined to comment on the Brown Bomber's chances against Farr, he reiterated that he, Schmeling, was the better man and would regain the title if Louis would sign to meet him again.

Louis predicted he would weigh exactly 198 pound for Farr. He tipped the scales at 201 yesterday.

Postpone Program Until Tonight

General Chairman Andy Agelo today stated that Saturday's program featuring the Feast of St. Rocco, which was postponed due to rain, will be held this evening at South Jefferson street, starting at 8 o'clock.

This evening's activities includes a band concert by the Sons of Italy band, under the direction of Anthony Basile, starting at 8 o'clock. During the course of the musical presentation, addresses will be delivered by several of New Castle's leading citizens. The feast ends with a mammoth fireworks display on the B. & O. grounds, late tonight

Woman Is Fined, Result Of Slap Given By Hubby

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23.—When hubby slaps his wife on a street corner in the "city of brotherly love", the missus is entitled to police protection but not the aid of the fire department.

It cost Mrs. Mary Van Hent $12.50 today to learn that. She was fined for pulling the corner fire alarm which brought firemen on four engines, the fire chief in his red chariot and an insurance patrol load of men to her rescue.

Van Hent had departed. She who got slapped was arrested for malicious mischief because fire alarms costs Philadelphia taxpayers $300.

DON HACKETT IS PERMITTED OUT

Don Hackett, Adams street, is now able to be out of his home and manages to get around on a pair of crutches.

Hackett had the misfortune to have his foot severely cut while swimming in an Ohio pool last Sunday. He received treatment in the Youngstown, O., hospital and was then removed to his home.

NEW CASTLE MAN TOOK "VENDOL" AND FEELS LIKE NEW PERSON

Had Gassy Stomach, Cramps, Pains, Acid Risings; Always Felt Bilious, Dizzy, With Spots Before Eyes And Very Nervous. Says Vendol Relieved Constipation Which Changed Everything.

Some of the best known men and women in this city and nearby vicinity are taking Vendol and coming forward with remarkable statements praising and endorsing this great mixture of roots, herbs and valuable alkalines, now being introduced at New Castle Drug Co. by the Vendol Man, Mr. H. P. Bauder of 805 N. Mercer St., New Castle, who worked forty years for the Carnegie Steel Co., until he retired, gave the Vendol Man the following account of his experience. He says:

"I had attacks of indigestion, with a lot of gas on the stomach that caused cramps and pains with shortness of breath. I felt bilious, dizzy, with spots dancing before my eyes and I'd have splitting headaches. My nerves were shaky and kept me awake long after I went to bed. I felt tired and worn-out all the time and was constipated every day."

"I hadn't been able to get relief no matter what I did. Then I heard about Vendol and started taking it along with the little Vendol laxative tablets and this treatment gave such marvelous relief from my constipation, which resulted in a great improvement in my stomach condition, that I feel like a different person."

"I now eat my meals and never have that tight, bloated feeling in my stomach because Vendol has cleared away the gas that caused this suffering. My strength and energy have improved since my food agrees with me, nerves calmed so that I sleep well and never feel dizzy any more. I'm glad to pass the good word about Vendol and hope many people will benefit by it."

What Vendol did for this hometown person it will also do for you, so don't delay getting some. Come to New Castle Drug Co., 35 E. Washington St., and let the Vendol Man tell you all about this medicine. Vendol is also sold and highly recommended by the New Castle Drug at 24 N. Mill St., Schweitzer's Pharmacy, Ellwood City, and all other leading druggists everywhere.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO TIRE BUYERS

If you drive a car it will be well worth your while to spend two minutes reading this notice, because here are facts which no one can afford to ignore. Every year thousands of motorists are killed or injured—thousands of dollars are spent for repairs, doctor and hospital bills—when blow-outs throw cars out of control.

It isn't necessary for a tire to be badly worn—or for the casing to be broken for a blow-out to occur. So don't make the mistake of thinking that because your tires look good, you can't have a blow-out.

The fact is that many of the blow-out accidents you read and hear about so often are caused by the intense heat generated inside all tires at today's high speeds. This heat may cause rubber and fabric to separate. A tiny, invisible blister may form and grow bigger and BIGGER until, sooner or later, BANG! It's a blow-out—and there's no telling what might happen.

To be safe you need protection against this dangerous blow-out-causing heat. And the way to get this protection—is to put Goodrich Safety Silvertown Tires on your car before it's too late.

For Silvertowns have something that no other tire in the world can give you—the Life-Saver Golden Ply. This Golden Ply is a special layer of rubber and full-floating cords, scientifically treated to resist internal tire heat. And by resisting heat inside the tire—at the danger-point where rubber and fabric meet—the Golden Ply protects you against these dangerous, high-speed blow-outs.

A blow-out accident is always unpleasant news. But it certainly must be good news to know there is a tire like the Goodrich Golden Ply Silvertown that's specially constructed to give you the kind of protection you need. You can have DRIVERS' SECURITY right now. Get a set of Goodrich Silvertowns today. They actually cost less than other super-quality tires.

Steels, Motors And Rails Lead In Market Advance
Today

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—The stock market ruled moderately higher today in extremely quiet trading.

Steels, motors, oils and most rails were above previous closing levels. Farm implements, a few utilities and several specialties were behind minus signs.

U. S. Steel was up a point a few minutes after the opening, but later dropped most of this. Chrysler, after gaining $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$, but slipped back below 114, while Kennecott lost most of a $\frac{1}{2}$ advance late in the forenoon.

International Harvester dropped 2 points and Oliver Farm half as much. American Water Works and American Power & Light dipped fractionally.

Westinghouse Electric featured with a spurt of better than 2 points. Standard of N. J. and Goodrich each gained a point.

Fire Destroys House Saturday

Old House Near Site Of Old
New Castle Brewery Causes Spectacular Blaze

GAINS BIG START
BEFORE DISCOVERED

Firemen were called to the rear of Atlantic avenue at 9:05 Saturday evening to extinguish a blaze in an old residence owned by Miss Anna Burns, near the site of the New Castle Brewery. It was practically destroyed by the blaze with a loss of $1,500, partly covered by insurance.

The blaze had gained a considerable start when discovered, and by the time firemen were able to weave their way through the heavy traffic downtown, the structure was a raging furnace. The home was unoccupied, it was stated.

Someone noticing the reflection from the blaze turned in an alarm from box 51, thinking the fire was east of Neshannock creek, and additional fire companies were called out to the vicinity of the Pennsylvania Engineering Works.

Firemen had trouble in getting to the blaze, being forced to drag hose down the bluff east of Atlantic avenue, and then crawl down the steep hillside to get at the fire. Fire Chief McIlwain was told that neighbors had noticed the fire some time before they turned in the alarm.

Violet Frankovich
Leading For Queen

Violet Frankovich, 1009 West State street, will be presented this week with a beautiful fur coat as a reward for topping the list of candidates for the honored position, "Queen of Labor" in conjunction with the Labor Day week celebration. Miss Frankovich outdistanced the entire field and after the votes were counted on Saturday night she had a total of 61,500. The other candidates have the following votes and their position in the race is in the order listed:

Maleta Pilch, 1001 Lorain avenue, 50,000.

Martha Jane Davis, 523 W. Washington street, 33,000.

June Frank, 940 Maryland avenue, 30,900.

Phyllis Crane, 833 W. Hazel street, 30,750.

Jewell Murdock, 403 Bell avenue, 23,250.

Ellen Hurme, 518 East Winter avenue, 22,000.

Julia Boston, 209 South Walnut street, 20,300.

Lembertha Przybiski, 1612 Hanna street, 20,100.

Margaret Picarro, 212 South Liberty street, 18,000.

This contest for a girl who will represent organized labor and who will reign over the entire festivities during the week of September 6 to 11, is getting hotter and hotter. Not only are the girls fighting for the honor of who will wear the regal robes of queen at the mammoth historical spectacle to be given each night, but they are out campaigning for votes every day because each week at least one valuable gift is made the girl who has most votes.

Two Victims Of
New York Heat

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—With the temperature dropping rapidly, the heat wave here was definitely ended today, leaving two victims in its wake yesterday. A third man, Samuel Klava, 34, was killed instantly when struck by lightning at Freehold, N. J.

Women Have Fun

Lauretta B. Weary

"Women get more fun out of conventions than men," declares Mrs. Lauretta B. Weary, who should know because she has attended more than 1,000 conventions for a New York reporting company. "Women don't take themselves nearly so seriously as men do," says Mrs. Weary. "They are able to season business with a dash of humor and they enjoy a good laugh at their own expense."

Ted Healy Has Moments In Art

Slapstick Comedian Appreciates Beautiful Things Of Life

YOUNG CHRYSLER TACTFUL EATER

By O. O. McIntyre
NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Dairy: A note from Lowell Thomas for me to pitch for his team at Pawling when the writers play the Washington correspondents. But my round-house outcurve is not what it used to be. A mated creed, too, from Burton Rascoe, roaming the western plains.

Came a half dozen ties from Charvet's in Paris without a card but I suspect Charles G. Norris. So bedecking myself in one set and off with my lady to Esther and Bruce Barton's for Bruce's birthday party, then to Mary Armstrong's jam shop for some preserved cherries.

So at dusk driving to Mrs. Madeline McGlone's on Pelham Parkway to see her fine Boston and one as frisky as a puppy, ten years old and blind. Such a wrench I was in a dolor. And we remembered passing the Claremont we had not dined, but hearing jazz music, on home to the ice box.

One thinks of Ted Healy with his slouchy walk, rowdy, twice and sloppy carout as the roughest of hard guys. Especially when he hauls off and slaps his stooges a paws pink. Yet there are few with a more practised eye for beautiful things of life. Now and then he goes on a flower binge, sending exquisite and personally selected posies to those he likes. He is also a frequent visitor to the galleries, standing enchanted before some canvases that have caught his eye. He is an astute judge of fine paintings. In New York and Hollywood he often sneaks off by himself to watch a sunset from some particular vantage. A newspaperman caught him one evening drinking in the beauty of a day's dying splendor over the Palisades. He was asked what he was doing. "Just a mugg musing," he replied.

Clowns from Pagliacci down have always had their pensive moments. Groucho, the famous European mime, is never happier than when spading in his garden. Toto, at the Hippodrome, used to sit on the fire escape in the evening to watch the sun in dying splendor. Silvers liked to sit on the battery wall and look out to sea. And Jimmy Savo is a frequent visitor to the Empire tower to watch the scatter of stars.

Personal nomination for the tinniest, silliest tune of the recent hit crop: "It Looks Like Rain In Cherry Blossom Lane."

Walter Chrysler, Jr., has become one of the discriminating younger gourmets. Someone refers to him as "The Boy Frank Crowninshield." His dinner parties at home and in the cafes are models of Epicurean selectness. He gives small parties, but in profusion. The late Ernest Cerutti, who knew foods as well as anyone of his day, said that a dinner with more than 12 diners became unwieldy for everybody, including host, waiters and chefs. He thought a correct number should be eight. And there was the conclusion of that trencherman, Count Boni de Castellane, who thought no dinner could be well eaten with more than one guest. And even then there should be no conversation. It is true that many of the most celebrated lovers of food liked to dine alone. Diamond Jim Brady entertained extensively, but several times a week would square off to himself and lick the platter clean. Cesare Ritz, the hotel man, always had one luncheon and one dinner each week with no one present save the servers. Those were the meals he enjoyed most.

Bagatelles: "Around the Corner," by Charles Hanson Towne, is King Alfonso's favorite American poem. Ernest Hemingway, after starting a novel, tries to write one chapter a week. The first thing Jascha Heifetz does on awakening is to see that his violin is safe. A special truck awaits to carry perishable gifts to hospitals after Major Bowes broadcasts. Ed Swazey, crack advertising man, can't stay awake in airplanes, which he uses almost constantly.

Nothing so completely swamps me as to be announced by a butler at one of those formal dinners. It has happened twice and each time when I stepped forward I expected to do either a split on the polished floor or hook an off foot in the yawning mouth of a Polar bear rug. So a friend dropping by today has rare medicine. Last night, so announced at one of the stiff affairs, he got half way across the floor and let go a lulu of a hiccup.
